WORKERS BATTLE WITH STICKS AT RAILROAD BRIDGE

Non-union Employees at the Plant and Union Pickets Lambast Each Other Until Police Come

NOT CALL IS SENT IN Both Bodies Deny That They Took Aggressive Step; Warrants Are Issued

The Wisconsin industrial commission today has consented to attempt an adjustment of the difficulties between the rubber workers and employers. In a statement to Attorney Fred H. Hartwell, attorney for the locked out employees, the commission points out that it has no power to compel the employers or employees to arbitrate but will act as arbiters merely in a friendly way. "Everything must be voluntary," are the words of the commission.

For the first time since the union rubber workers of the La Crosse Rubber Mills company have been at the plant, the two opposing factions—the locked out men and the non-union factory workers—came together today. The incident occurred on the right of way of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, where the railroad bridge crosses the La Crosse river.

Police declare the battle waged was fast and furious while it lasted, until a riot act brought an automobile load of police to the scene. Then the combatants scattered in every direction although a number of arrests were made.

As a result of the fracas, there are a lot of sore heads and black eyes among both factions, but only one, Frank Netwell, was seriously hurt. Netwell was taken to the Lutheran hospital for treatment for wounds on the face and head, which he declares were inflicted with a heavy club.

Warrants Sworn
Karl Hemleben, another worker at the mills, declared he was knocked unconscious with a club, but he recovered sufficiently to go to the court house and swear to warrants, Charles Butrem and Frank Chapiewski were said to have been Hemleben's and Netwell's assailants.

Both the locked out workers and the non-union hands now working at the mills deny responsibility for the affair. The non-union men, declare the other faction, "laid for with clubs," while the union men declare they were attacked by the non-union men.

According to the police version of the affair, six of the new employees at the plant were assaulted by eleven of the pickets as they were going to work. The police said the union pickets were concealed behind a pile of railroad ties and jumped out at the non-union men. They were armed with clubs, say the police.

Warrants covering the fracas have been issued in several cases and in others have been asked for. In the absence of the locked out workers' attorney, F. H. Hartwell, the union men made no statement as to whether they would ask for warrants against the non-union workers.

Police Get Names
The police list of participants in the fight, which they say is incomplete, includes the following:
Non-union employees now at the plant:
Frank Netwell, Carl Hemleben, Otto Knothe, Charles Wibbard, Steven Sherwin, Harry Drake.

Union men, said to have been pickets:
Charles Butrem, Frank Chapiewski, Edward Dellenbach, Fred Hull, Julius Thiel, Jerome Chapiewski, Chas. Olson and Harry Cole.

The police list of witnesses has been turned over to District Attorney Schlabach, who has been asked to get out warrants. In addition to Butrem and Chapiewski, under arrest, the police were armed with John Doe warrants to arrest other participants in the trouble.

According to Hemleben the six men were walking peacefully towards the rubber mills at about 7:30 this morning. A few of the usual number of pickets were seen along the side of the road as they approached the rubber bridge, situated on the road half way to the rubber mills.

The balance of the eleven men concealed along the embankment, he says. As the six approached the spot their assailants rose and came towards them.

MEXICO CITY FLAG CASE WILL NOT BE TAMPICO INCIDENT

Washington Holds That the McManus Murder Was Act of Individual Revenge and Not Official

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Mal-treatment of the American flag by Zapataists, following the murder in Mexico of John B. McManus, Chicago dairyman, will not be made another Tampico incident. This was emphasized at the state department and at the White house today.

It was held that the murder of McManus and the violation of the American colors and of the seal of the Brazilian consulate placed on McManus' door for protection was by men who attacked McManus for revenge, and was in no way countenanced by their responsible officers. About Tampico both Villistas and Carranzistas are claiming victory in the initial skirmishing now in progress. Both sides are frantically hurrying reinforcements.

With the battleship Georgia and the cruiser Des Moines at Progresso and the vessels loading at will, officials were confident that the 120,000 bales of sisal fibre stored there would be enroute to the United States within a fortnight.

PLASTERERS WALK OUT

CHICAGO, March 26.—Chicago's labor situation assumed a more serious aspect yesterday. Eight hundred plasterers voted to join the ranks of the locked-out lathers, officials announced. Beginning yesterday the plasterers will refuse to replaster over any lathes laid by non union lathers. In retaliation, the contractors intimated that they will apply the lockout against the plasterers.

A RAILROAD LAUGHS AT LA CROSSE

"In view of the fact that the city of La Crosse owns a bridge across the Mississippi river and charges Minnesota farmers twenty-five cents for the use of the bridge when the farmers furnish their own vehicles and motive power, we do not feel that the citizens of La Crosse are in a position to justify their criticism of our (arbitrary twenty-five cent) bridge charge."—Letter from Geo. B. Haynes, general passenger agent of the C., M. & St. P. Ry. Co., sent to D. W. MacWillie, president of the Manufacturers' and Jobbers' club.

The C., M. & St. P. Ry. company has established an arbitrary toll of twenty-five cents, in addition to regular fare, for passengers coming into La Crosse over its Mississippi bridge. The above letter shows that the company is making the tolls this city maintains upon its own wagon bridge an excuse for refusing to remove this rail bridge toll.

There are two doors only by which Minnesota trade can enter La Crosse. They are the wagon bridge and the railroad bridge. Mr. Haynes' letter, quoted above, was in answer to a letter from Mr. Eldridge, general superintendent of the road, in which the latter had assured him the road was LOSING A LARGE SUM OF MONEY EACH YEAR because Minnesota people ARE REFUSING TO COME TO LA CROSSE AS LONG AS THEY HAVE TO PAY THE TWENTY-FIVE CENT TOLL.

This statement is founded on the railroad company's official records showing loss of business over the railway bridge.

The hundreds of people whom these records show are kept away by the railway bridge toll mean a loss of but thirty-seven cents each to the company, yet the amount causes the superintendent to protest. But, in what they would spend here, the loss of these same people means a vastly greater loss to La Crosse.

And, since it is proved that the railroad bridge tolls are keeping hundreds of people out of La Crosse, can anyone doubt that the wagon bridge tolls are keeping out many more hundreds?

La Crosse can't prosecute a successful campaign to have the railroad bridge tolls removed so long as it charges tolls on its wagon bridge. Both doors leading from Minnesota are closed by tolls.

If La Crosse will open one door, the vigorous campaign now contemplated may result in the other door being opened. But until the city opens, the railroad will not.

NEUTRAL VESSEL BOMBARDED

German Aeroplanes Reported to Have Thrown Darts Upon Deck of Norse Vessel

THE HAGUE, March 26.—The Dutch cabinet was summoned in an extraordinary session this afternoon to discuss the sinking of the Dutch steamer Medea by the German submarine U-28 in the English channel. The cabinet meeting was called following an official conference between the minister of marine, the chief of the Dutch naval staff and the foreign minister.

LONDON, March 26.—Neutral vessels, carrying cargoes to English ports, as well as British merchantmen, are suffering from the German policy of reprisals through the air.

Captain Vogt of the Norwegian steamer Diana, reported on his arrival at South Shields today that several Germans aviators attacked the Diana as she passed out of the English channel. They threw at least 500 darts, a foot long and sharp pointed, upon the deck of the Diana, Vogt said.

A dispatch from Amsterdam today said that Royal Steamship company, owners of the Dutch steamer Medea, sunk by the German submarine U-28 in the channel, has sent a representative to The Hague to urge a sharp note of protest to Germany.

CHILE PROTESTS VIOLATIONS OF HER NEUTRALITY

SANTIAGO, Chile, March 26.—The Chilean government today addressed protests to both Germany and England against alleged violation of Chilean neutrality, particularly in the engagement at Juan Fernandez island.

The German cruiser Dresden stayed four days at Juan Fernandez, notwithstanding the notice to leave, before she was sunk by the British warships, the government asserted, and was at anchor in Chilean waters when she was attacked.

ARREST ORPHANAGE HEAD

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 26.—Samuel M. Roess, 46, who until recently was superintendent of the General German Protestant Orphans' home here, was arrested yesterday and held on $2,000 bond charged with contributing to the delinquency of girls in the orphanage.

John P. Leyendecker, attorney for the directors, preferred the charges. The girls are said to have ranged in ages from 20 to 15.

MISSIONS HOIST U. S. FLAG

Many of Natives Exposed to Violence Members of American Presbyterian Sect

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The massacre of foreign missionaries in Northwestern Persia, and the desperate plight in which many others, with native Christians, now find themselves is causing this government serious concern. Advice received by the state department, from private and official sources emphasize the dangers to which the missionaries, many of them members of the American Presbyterian sect, are exposed. Turkish troops and Kurds are over-running the entire northwestern part of Persia, murdering all male Christians and carrying off women and children.

Secretary of State Bryan today again cabled Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople to make the most urgent representations to the Ottoman government and to demand that full protection be afforded American interests. The chief center of the trouble is Urumiah, where thousands of native Christians have sought refuge in the French and American mission stations, which are the only ones that so far have escaped the vengeance of the mobs. It is reported that the American missionaries have raised the American flag above their compound and demand protection from the native officials.

All American diplomatic and consular representatives in Turkey, Russia and Persia have been ordered by the state department to report information reaching them of the situation. Only the most meager official dispatches have reached the department, but Secretary Bryan declared today that he had not the slightest doubt that the press dispatches from Russian sources accurately described the situation.

The Turkish troops who have been operating in northern Persia succeeded more than two months ago in driving the Russians out of the country and since that time, roaming bands of Kurds and Turkish irregulars have ravaged the country.

Mrs. Catherine Cameron Richardson Succumbs After Half Century Here; Helped Found City

Mrs. Catherine Cameron Richardson, the last of the family of Camerons who took part in the founding of La Crosse, and one of its early settlers, died at her home in La Crescent this morning.

Mrs. Richardson was born in Deerfield, Oneida county, New York, in 1821, coming to La Crosse in 1854, and moving to La Crescent the following year, where she has since resided.

During the early settlement of this country, her husband, David Richardson, had charge of the Peter Cameron trading post in La Crescent, later known as the "Old Log House."

She is survived by two children, Mr. Irving Richardson of Great Falls, Mont., and Mrs. George Donald of La Crescent, and three grandchildren, Mrs. John Wakefield of Belgrade, Mont., and the Misses Georgia and Lark Donald, who were with her at the time of her death.

The funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock from the farm home, two miles from La Crescent, and at 2 o'clock from the Presbyterian church at La Crescent. Rev. D. C. Jones of this city will officiate.

DAMAGES TO THE STRAIT DEFENSES REPORTED REPAIRED

Four Day Lull in the Bombardment Due to a Gale Gives Turks Chance to Mount New Guns

LONDON, March 26.—The superdreadnought Queen Elizabeth, supported by the battleships Triumph and Agamemnon and the cruiser Cornwall, has entered the Dardanelles and has begun a systematic battering of the Turkish forts at long range, according to Athens dispatches today.

The Anglo-French fleet will not again expose itself to attack at close range, Athens cabled.

At a conference it was determined from four to five warships will enter the strait each day, withdrawing at specified intervals when they will be relieved by other warships.

LONDON, March 26.—The Turks have placed new batteries at the Dardanelles. Taking advantage of a four day lull in the operations of the allied fleet, new guns have been mounted at Erenkeui, six miles inside the strait on the Asiatic shore and the Anglo-French warships are being heavily shelled.

A hot fire came from Fort Kilit Bahr and from Namazieh, overlooking the narrow entrance when the warships resumed the bombardment, according to Athens dispatches today. The Turkish batteries at first replied feebly, ceased firing altogether and then broke out violently as a cruiser flotilla moved into closer range. Athens messages expressed the belief that the damage done by the warships on March 18 had been partly repaired by the Turks.

The gale that drove Rear Admiral DeRobeck's squadron out to sea has now entirely ceased.

London newspapers today printed more dispatches from Balkan sources, telling of panicky conditions in Constantinople, but Berlin reported life proceeding as usual in the Turkish capital.

SURFACE OF WATER OIL-COVERED

May Indicate That Mishap Below Surface Has Smashed the Little Vessel Open

WASHINGTON, March 26.—For the first time in its history, the United States navy probably has lost a submarine. The F-4 lies under the water at the entrance of Honolulu harbor, according to latest reports received by the navy department. Nineteen men, most of them trained warrant officers, and her commander, Lieutenant Alfred Louis Ede, are imprisoned in the steel hull which it is feared may prove their final tomb.

Early today naval officials were hopeful that the F-4 would be raised, either by the crew at the hand pumps or by the submarine tender at Honolulu. It was pointed out that the little craft was equipped with hooks to

Hit Coral Reef Is Theory
MAIE, ISLAND, Cal., March 26.—That the submarine F-4 struck a submerged coral reef and was mortally hurt was the theory of officers of the Mare Island navy yard had this afternoon. They had abandoned all hope of the crew being rescued alive. The boat was outfitted here for the trip to Honolulu.

which chains might be attached to lift her; that she had a splendid submarine signalling apparatus and a marker buoy which attached to the outside and released by a half turn of a wheel within, whirled to the surface and marked its position.

May Be Smashed Open
The first official report, however, dashed the hopes of all but the most optimistic.

Commander Smith, in charge of the first submarine flotilla cabled Secretary Daniels that the mouth of Honolulu harbor, where the F-4 had disappeared, was covered with fuel oil. The trail craft was operated by oil engines. Presence of the oil on the surface indicated that either the water ballast tanks had failed to empty and the oil tanks were dumped to lighten the boat or that the vessel had been smashed open and her oil had flowed out.

The fact that the marker buoy had not been seen and that the submarine signalling apparatus had not been heard was admittedly ominous. Rear Admiral Taylor, aide for construction, said that if the crew were alive it was hard to understand why they had not been located by one or the other signalling systems.

The navy department received an official report from Honolulu today which caused grave apprehension concerning the fate of submarine F-4. Officials did not, however, entirely give up hope.

The report was from Commander Smith of the first submarine division at Honolulu. It said: "F-4 left tender for submerged run 25th, 9 a. m. Failed return. At surface entrance harbor, thirty fathoms, water covered with fuel oil. Diving and dragging.—Smith."

The F-4 was commander by Lieutenant Alfred Louis Ede, who was born at Reno, July 4, 1887, and graduated from Annapolis in 1909.

First Case in U. S. History
Secretary Daniels said if it proved true that the F-4 was lost, it would be the first case of the kind in the United States navy's history. He added that about ten years ago, an American submarine met with an accident while submerged in Newport harbor and was unable to ascend for four hours. The crew, however, finally brought it to the surface by using hand pumps.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

MISS CADY'S ZOO

BY JOHN TRENT

(Copyright, 1935, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Among the frivolous young folk in the village Miss Arabella Cady's select boarding house was known as "The Zoo." As Sally Hecker vivaciously explained it to her fellow teachers at the high school, "It is a human zoo, anyway, if there could be such a thing."

"First," said Sally, "there is our own revered principal, Mr. Dale—is he not a perfect bear, a big, growly, grizzly bear? And Dr. Coleman is a perfect polar bear, so cold and unmanly and restless! And Miss Twitchell is a feline—soft and purry and with sharp claws that scratch, and a biting tongue. And," Sally giggled, "I heard Mr. Dale say that the new boarder, the young man who works in the drug store, was a puppy, and everyone knows what a puppy is. And, and, and all the rest of the house full are just as funny and freakish. Oh, no; Miss Lane, don't go to The Zoo to board!"

Violet Lane, the new teacher, smiled mirthfully at Sally's description of Miss Cady's boarders. "You are too late, Miss Hecker; I've engaged board there and I don't care what you say about the rest of them, but I do think Miss Arabella is a perfect dear."

A gale of laughter greeted her remark.

"A dear! What did I tell you, girls?" cried Sally. "Oh, don't mind our foolishness, Miss Lane; you are a dear yourself and entirely eligible to go to The Zoo. Perhaps you can do some missionary work among them all."

Violet smiled and was silent. She could not explain to these giddy girls how pleasant and homelike was the little, chintz-hung room at Miss Cady's, where she had unpacked her belongings that very morning. How quiet was the home atmosphere of the place and how delicious the well-cooked food!

They could not appreciate what this position in the Vineland school meant to a girl who had worked her way up from an orphaned and friendless childhood, who had paid for her own education and who had never known what a real home was like.

To Violet Lane Miss Cady's zoo was a charming colonial house filled with delightful people. It was more than that, it was home.

So, accompanied by the unwarranted pity of her companions, Violet Lane turned in at Miss Cady's gate; smiled as they hurried away in affected fear of its inmates, and was still smiling as she opened the front door.

The smile died away as she met the fierce, dark gaze of Homer Dale, the principal of her school. Mr. Dale, a tall, dark, studious looking man, growled a greeting, tried to smile and failed utterly, before he desperately bolted into the sitting room and hid himself behind a newspaper.

Violet was puzzled. "I don't believe he likes me," she thought, as she mounted the stairs. At the top she met little Miss Twitchell, who had lived for many years at the Zoo. She had a little, dried-up face and (Violet spoke in a rasping little voice)

"Oh, it's you, Miss Lane—Lane or Dane, did you say? Oh, Lane! I really thought you were a little girl; but la! when our school teachers wear such short skirts and flounce around so, how is a body to know?"

"She is scratchy!" decided Violet as she removed her hat and slipped off her gown preparatory to dressing for supper. "But I don't care—a real home has cats and dogs, and sometimes, I suppose, a tame bear, and I may as well make friends with them; make pets of them, perhaps."

She sat down at the crowded table, with violet eyes and rose lips and cheeks and hair like pale coral silk; surely this flower face did not belong here among these sterner countenances.

The drug clerk passed the butter twice to Violet and ventured a remark about the weather. Mr. Dale frowned at his overtures and again passed the butter to the new boarder.

Miss Twitchell made a scratchy remark and fat Mrs. Jones giggled. Violet blushed and Dr. Coleman emerged from his Polar bearishness long enough to remark that she looked feverish, and suggested to Mr. Dale that there might be an epidemic of scarlet fever threatening the school.

"Oh, I have had scarlet fever," reassured Violet hastily. Dr. Coleman froze up again and asked for another cup of tea.

The remainder of the meal was eaten in silence and the guests passed out to the broad piazza where each one immediately appropriated a comfortable chair.

Violet sat down on the top step and felt very lonesome. The women were embroidering and talking in low tones; Dr. Coleman was reading a medical journal, the drug clerk had returned to his soda water fountain, and Mr. Dale was looking very stern and unapproachable behind a newspaper.

Miss Arabella Cady, fat and rosy, bustled out dressed in her second best attire.

"I'm going over to Sister Amy's for a while," she said as she went down the steps. She paused beside Violet and laid a plump hand on the girl's knee. "Don't get lonesome, honey—there's a piano in the parlor—make yourself at home."

"Thank you, Miss Cady," quavered Violet for she was very near to tears. Presently she arose and went into the dim parlor. She had learned to play by ear and she had a sweet,

USING SOAP SPOILS THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonsful will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

untrained voice. There were so many old songs that she knew by heart, and as the melodies threaded out from her fingers she sang softly to their accompaniment.

"Annie Laurie," "Bonnie Doon," Tosti's "Goodbye," "Love's Old Sweet Song"—and as she sang the words of this last favorite love song of several generations Violet became aware that other voices were added to her own.

Somehow, the dim room had mysteriously become populated with shadowy forms. There was the reedy treble of Miss Twitchell, the deep bass of Dr. Coleman, the throaty alto of Mrs. Jones and the rich baritone of Homer Dale. Miss Crotty, the milliner, hummed like a bee, and the Bennetts, husband and wife, sang all off the key in no particular voices at all.

But they all enjoyed it and Violet said never a word, but when the song was finished her fingers drifted into the melody of "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and something in the old song brought tears to many eyes and it ended in a quivering sob quickly stifled by Miss Twitchell.

Then they were silent while Violet sang "The Rosary." At the end of the first few bars Mr. Dale's baritone took up the song and together they sang it through to the end.

Violet was trembling with happiness when the piano was closed at last and she went out to the porch with her fellow boarders.

How animatedly they all talked! Dr. Coleman, reminded of his boyhood, told witty stories; Miss Twitchell confided a half-forgotten love affair that had to do with a church choir in which she had once sang; Mrs. Jones had been reminded of a lost little one, and ever after that the listeners treated the middle-aged widow with tender deference; Miss Crotty told of how she had always wanted to study music, but there had been no money and many mouths to feed and millinery paid better wages.

Homer Dale was silent; his eyes never left Violet's lovely face as the girl, in turn for the confidence of these new found friends, told the sad story of her loveless life. She told it simply and straightforwardly.

"My dear," quavered Miss Twitchell, at last, and she quite forgot to scratch, "you are a wonderful girl—and I believe ye are going to love you—and I hope you will forgive me for what I said on the stairs!"

"Dear Miss Twitchell!" murmured Violet, as she impulsively kissed the faded cheek so near her own.

Still Homer Dale said nothing. The others chattered so fast that they entirely forgot his presence. When bedtime came Violet saw his extended hand and her own little one was lost in its warm grasp.

"Thank you, Miss Lane," he confided in this evening, he said gravely.

As she prepared for bed a tender smile curved her lips. "If these are the bears and cats and geese of Sally's story, I must say that I adore the occupants of Miss Cady's Zoo! I believe—I'm going—to be very happy—here!" And Violet drifted into slumber.

Sally Hecker faced her fellow teachers with a tragic wave of her hand toward Violet Lane, who was walking home with Homer Dale.

"Girls, look!" she commanded. "There goes the most successful animal trainer in the world—Violet Lane! What is her record? Merely that she has tamed Miss Cady's Zoo to a man—or a bear! Miss Twitchell swears by her—Miss Crotty worships her—Dr. Coleman growsl her praises to whoever will listen—the drug clerk is hopelessly in love with her—and Mrs. Jones has offered to adopt her! What can we do? The menagerie is tamed by a little blue-eyed girl!"

"There is Homer Dale, the big brown, growly bear," reminded Miss Fenn mischievously.

"Oh, he is the most cowed of them all," retorted Sally brightly. "In fact Violet is to lead him through life with a chain of roses—fact, girls, they are engaged! Isn't it lovely that she is to have a real home and real folks at last?"

Acute Articular Rheumatism

The exact cause of rheumatism is unknown, though it is generally believed to be due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It may also be caused by a specific remedy has been found which is a specific in all cases. In fact the literature of rheumatism shows that there are but a few hands of one observer we find that a certain factor has been used with the same remedy to be a great disappointment. All physicians however agree that every method of treatment is aided by the administration of the nervous system and Dr. W. E. Schaefer's opinion of thousands of practitioners who say that Anti-Kamnia Tablets should be given preference to all other remedies for the relief of the pain in all forms of rheumatism. These tablets can be purchased in any quantity. They are also unsurpassed in headache, neuritis and all pain. Ask for A-K Tablets.

Arabs Cross the Desert Seated on Their Backs.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

How Funny
"Ships" Cross
The Desert.

"HAVE you children heard the term 'ships of the desert'?" asked daddy. "The ship of the desert, the camel, is a curious looking beast. I have always thought that he looked as if he were making ugly faces. He is such a homely looking animal that I wouldn't wonder if he were. Would you?"

"You children have both seen camels in circuses. You've seen men riding on them in the parades, and you've seen them behind the ropes in the menagerie chewing their cud like the cows in grandpa's barn. But the circus is only a show place for the camel. His real place is away out in the desert."

"In that strange country called Africa, where there are many negroes and other dark skinned people and where the date palms and coconut trees grow and the sun is very hot by day, is a great big stretch of sand that they call the Sahara desert.

"This desert is a very wonderful country. There are no green hills and beautiful fields, such as we have here in the summer. There it is summer all the year round, and the sun shines down hot on great wastes of sand. You may look as far as you can see and you will see no trees nor hills—just sand.

"Once in a great while on this desert there is a green spot called an oasis. Here the people who are crossing the desert find springs of water and fig and date palms. But there are not many of these spots, and if it were not for the camels the men could not cross the desert, for they would die of thirst.

"These men are called Arabs, and the camels have been named 'ships of the desert,' for the Arabs cross the desert seated on their backs as one would cross a sea in a ship. It is this way, children: The camel is a beast that must have been intended just for the desert, for he can live many days without water. He drinks a full supply before the journey is started, and that will do him until his master reaches an oasis. The camel bears a load of food and water in great bottles for his master, but he does not have a drink himself until he reaches an oasis.

"The camels are used to bring loads of spices and silks and rugs and other articles across the desert to be marketed. They travel for many miles through the sand, and when it is time to rest the driver gives them a command, and they kneel down while the driver gets off, and then they lie there and receive their food."

PHILIPP WOULD CUT STATE ROAD AID

Governor in Message to the Legislature Urges Reduction of State Highway Appropriation

MADISON, Wis., March 26.—Gov. E. L. Philipp Wednesday told the assembly committee on state affairs that the legislature should not appropriate in excess of $500,000 for the purpose of state aid in road building. This message was delivered to the committee by Michael Cleary, state claim agent and legal advisor to the governor. The committee had under consideration the Woodward bill to cut the appropriation to $500,000 and measures to abolish the state highway commission and give the power to a county commission.

"I am directed by the governor to make a statement for him to your committee on the subject of state participation in highway building," said Mr. Cleary in appearing before the committee. "In the first place there is an unmistakable demand on the part of the people for retrenchment in governmental expenses and a reduction in tax burdens. As a general proposition, it is our duty as servants of the people to heed the public demand. This is especially true at this time when industry and financial conditions are what they are today.

State to Have Engineers
"In order to accomplish this we must save even in lines of state activity that are useful and commendable in their purposes. The governor does not wish to infringe upon the province of the legislature but he wishes to say that if, in the judgment of the legislature, state aid is to be continued the sum appropriated for that purpose should not exceed the sum of $500,000 a year. It is his opinion at this time that he should not approve an appropriation exceeding this sum."

"Further, the governor is of the opinion that the state, through its engineering department if such a department is created as now proposed and if not then through the state highway engineer, should furnish to the counties the engineering service required in road building; that the state through this department should have such control over the building of roads as will require uniformity in their construction."

Counties to Fix Materials
"That the questions of when to build, where to build, the kind of material to be used in road making and the question as to whether the building shall be done by contract or otherwise should be in the hands of properly constituted county authorities to determine."

"That it is highly important that ample provision be made for the maintenance of highways after they are built. Further, that the law should make such provision as will invite and bring about greater activity in the grading and draining of highways. This method of road making is the least expensive and in many communities of the state will make good serviceable roads."

"The governor is also of the opinion that the state highway commission can be dispensed with without any material detriment to the service; that the duties and functions of the commission be transferred to and imposed upon the branch of the state service having charge of the engineering features of highway building."

JAIL MAKES THESE DARKIES NERVOUS

RHEUMATISM A MYSTERY

Some diseases give immunity from another attack but rheumatism works just the other way.

Every attack of rheumatism invites another. Worse than that it reduces the body's power, so that each attack is worse than the one before.

If any disease needs curing early it is rheumatism but there is almost no disease which physicians find more difficult to treat successfully. When a medicine does help rheumatism nobody knows how or why it does it.

All authorities agree that the blood becomes thin with alarming rapidity as rheumatism develops. Maintaining the quality of the blood therefore is a reasonably way of preventing and combating rheumatism. That it works out in fact is shown by the beneficial results in the treatment of rheumatism, acute, muscular and articular, with the blood tonic, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

That hundreds who take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their rheumatism get well is a fact beyond dispute. That the rheumatism does not return as long as the blood is kept rich and red is equally true.

Write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free pamphlet "Building Up the Blood" and kindly mention this paper. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"THE WHITE MAN'S BURDEN"

A week or two ago the country was stirred by a story from Utah that a band of desperate Plute outlaws had left their reservation and were entrenched against the attacks of a state posse which wanted one of the leaders to answer for murder. There was a more or less desultory battle in which members of both attacking and defending forces were killed and wounded, and Uncle Sam was called upon to lend his might to quelling the renegades.

So far it looked like a revival of the Indian outbreaks of western history a score of years or more in the past. But when Brigadier-General Hugh L. Scott of the United States Army took hold of the situation there was an apparently inexplicable turn in affairs. Stories of the posse's battle suddenly ceased, and the incident closes today with Tse-Ne-Gat, Old Polk, chief Posey and the latter's son in jail at Salt Lake City, brought in as voluntary captives of General Scott.

The metamorphosis of the blood-thirsty redskins into docile captives willing to accept the white man's justice may be explained, perhaps, in the light of an interview with a westerner which recently appeared in the Madison State Journal. This observer, whose name unfortunately escapes recollection, said that Tse-Ne-Gat, wanted for the killing of a Mexican, would have been surrendered without question had it not been for a hostile spirit engendered in his tribesmen by a systematic persecution conducted by cattlemen who coveted the Plute's lands for grazing. The State Journal's informant declared that the opposition of the Indians was welcomed by the interests desiring their territory, and that Marshall Nebeker's posse was not so much a criminal-taking expedition as a campaign to drive the Indians out of the path of the cattlemen.

The successful outcome of General Scott's parley seems to bear out the westerner's contention that the state posse was more interested in shooting Indians than bringing them to justice.

PERMANENT EXPOSITIONS

It is enough now to admire the beauty and variety of the great world show at San Francisco and of the fine smaller one at San Diego. We wish heartily that ten times as many people would see them, no matter what the number of admissions may be—for we hardly expect the latter to equal a tenth of the population of North America.

The final economics of the huge modern fair presents, however, a decidedly debatable question. For strangers to the coast—or, for that matter, for those who are by no means strangers to it—the great object of a trip thither will be to see the country rather than to see the fairs. The latter frankly are simply a means of advertising the country. A better subject never engaged the advertiser's art.

The question is whether the fair is the best method. At Chicago and St. Louis and Paris there was a good deal of debate and difference of opinion as to that, when the final returns had been counted up. It may be the same at San Francisco; or this latest and greatest enterprise in that line may give ground for a rather conclusive answer as to whether or not it pays to advertise in that way.

Meantime sixty-odd million dollars has been spent for your delectation. The railroads are making low rates and everybody who can afford it ought to take the opportunity. Especially those who have not yet seen the trans-Rocky country ought to take in one of the greatest of Nature's permanent expositions.—Saturday Evening Post.

THE UNIVERSITY VINDICATED

The report of the state board of public affairs, upon which those who would turn the Wisconsin clock back have placed an anticipatory dependence, justifies the past financial policy of the state toward the university. Its findings are summarized as follows:

The university is not receiving an undue proportion of the money expended by the state for education. The university is one-third self-supporting since $939,398 of its $2,805,806 expenditure in 1914 came from the federal government, students' fees, dormitory receipts and sources other than taxes.

Expenditures of the university are not a cause for alarm. The university has acquired practically all the land that will be needed for a generation or more, and when buildings now asked are completed, the most expensive needs for the next several years will have been met.

Work done at the university, in accordance with the state law, additional to student instruction, is what makes the proportionate expense of the institution greater than of the common and secondary schools.

Of course it is expected that the administration will fly in the face of this report. The empty handed search for reasonable retrenchments of a substantial character has created a desperate situation in which dollars will be lopped off without serious regard for justification. But will such expedients stand the test of public sentiment?

The wise man bottles his wrath and then loses the corkscrew.

When Harry Atwood was aeroplaning from St. Louis to New York he alighted to adjust his machine in a field near Fort Plain, N. Y. Atwood wasn't certain what state he was in, and wanted to know. "Didn't marry her, eh? I suppose you were afraid you could not support her in the style to which she has been accustomed. "Oh, no, I was not at all afraid of that." "Then why didn't—" "It was she that was afraid I could not."

He Was Willing
A lot of old-timers of the Army and Navy club in Washington were swapping stories. "One St. Haskins," says a retired brigadier general, "decided to enlist. He burned with a desire to serve his country. So he applied at a recruiting office and was duly punched and prodded, trotted up and down, jumped over chairs and tables, etc. "Then came the questions. All manner of them were fired at him, and he answered most of them satisfactorily. Then came the stern inquiry: "Have you ever served a jail sentence?" "No, sir," stammered St., "but," he added hastily, "I'd be willing to serve a short one, if it's necessary."

Sure, He Didn't
Peter De Groot advertised for an office boy the other day. There weren't any replies that amounted to anything till a smutty faced urchin presented himself just at the hour when he should not have appeared. "What do you want?" growled Peter. The child answered: "I don't suppose you don't know about no man that don't want to hire no kid nor no feller to do no work nor nothing fer him, do you? Or don't you?" "Yes," answered Mr. DeGroot, "I don't."

Keeping a man's nose to the grindstone doesn't sharpen his wits.

Bill Before Legislature to Make It Illegal for Aliens to Engage in Business

MADISON, Wis., March 26.—(Special.)—A new bill has been reported to the assembly and will be referred to the judiciary committee, providing that no person may conduct or engage in any business in this state unless he is an elector in the state. This bill was introduced by Assemblyman Killia of Milwaukee. It provides that no person may engage in any occupation or profession under the laws of the state or ordinances of any city unless such person is an elector.

An interesting anti-treating bill has also been introduced by Assemblyman Killia. It relates only to the city of Milwaukee, however; and provides it shall be unlawful for any dealer at wholesale or his agent to invite or solicit any person other than duly licensed dealers to purchase spirituous liquors in any quantity. This bill would also curtail the infringement by one agent selling liquor to the customers of another.

"Better—" For the first time she turned and looked him full in the face, and he broke off blankly. Either she was young, or she had conserved in those two clear, steady eyes all that is youthful and all that is splendid in youth. She was smiling, and inexplicably her frank pleasure seemed to goad him out of his heavy indifference. He sprang up with a rough laugh. "Why, you're actually not bad-looking in your queer way," he stammered, "and I called you a 'good old soul'! Merciful heavens, what a fool I am to care about anything—as though anything mattered—here—"

She must have seen the insane devil in his white drawn face, but she did not flinch. She stood there, kettle in hand, and looked at him.

"Sit down. I would like to spare you the trouble of coming up the stairs to apologize when you have recovered."

For a long second they stared at each other in challenging silence. Had she wavered, the rekindled fury in him must have gained the upper hand. But her composed self-confidence was absolute. He sank back growling.

"I am a cur," he said under his breath.

"Oh, no, you're not a cur. You are or were drunk. It's not a nice word, but I'm afraid I'm too busy to think out pretty ways of expressing myself. There's your tea."

She placed the cup fearlessly at his elbow. "Please drink it at once."

He obeyed.

"You're quite right," he said simply. "I was drunk. I wouldn't like you to believe that it's for the first time."

"I know."

"Do you?"

"Habit is obvious." She leaned against the arm of the sofa and studied him with folded arms and perplexed brows. "I wonder why there was a first time. Forgive me, but looking after you has cost me a charity French lesson with an old professor who can only find time for me between seven and eight. You see, I am bent on self-improvement—consequently I feel justified in replenishing my store of wisdom at your expense. People who drink are either stupid or—"

"Or what?"

"—they want to forget things."

He smiled a little.

"Isn't that asking?"

"Yes, it is, but I don't expect an answer. I am just wondering. Now lie down. Your head is aching furiously."

A WARNING TO MANY

Some Interesting Facts About Kidney Troubles

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot readily be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in 1913, in the state of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

The mild and healing influence of this preparation, in most cases, is soon realized, according to sworn statements and verified testimony of those who have used the remedy.

If you feel that your kidneys require attention, and wish a sample bottle, write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper, enclose ten cents and they will gladly forward it to you by Parcel Post.

Swamp-Root is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c and $1.00.

CHAPTER IV
The Great Law Comes Into Force

When Richard Farquhar awoke from his heavy sleep it was broad daylight. The fog had lifted and a pale winter sunshine poured in on the plush furniture and revealed it in all its native hideousness. He looked at everything in turn, like a man trying to assure himself of his own reality. Then he got up and rang the bell. By the time his summons was answered he had smoothed his hair into order and slipped a dressing-gown over the all-betraying evening clothes. Mrs. Ferrier eyed him with large and comfortable satisfaction.

"Did you ring, sir?"

"Yes. I want my breakfast, please. And I have a confession to make. I didn't get home—till six this morning, and—and I was in a corresponding condition. A— a young lady was kind enough to help me upstairs and lend me these things. I should be glad if they were returned with my thanks and compliments."

Mrs. Ferrier picked up the rug. Her mouth was pursed.

"Why—it's Miss Smith's," she said severely. "I've a good mind to give notice—"

"Because she helped me up-stairs? Good heavens, I suppose you'd throw stones at the good Samaritan. Don't be a fool, Mrs. Ferrier. If she goes I go, and there's an end of the matter. You can go now. In all probability I shall be in town again to-night. No—leave these things there; I'll give them back to her myself."

He dressed, and by midday was on duty. Those who had witnessed the scene on the preceding night glanced at him curiously, but his face betrayed nothing—neither weariness nor the self-disgust usual on such occasions. They saw he had changed, but the change was indefinable. They saw also that, whatever else had happened, he had not apologized to Sower. The two men exchanged the curtest and most perfunctory greeting.

By seven o'clock he stood again in the Omney's library, this time alone. The emptiness of the room seemed to reveal something that he had never noticed before—a curious, chilling lack of sincerity. The tapestries, the old oak furniture unveiled themselves as relics deluded by a blind unfeeling power to a place that was not theirs. Their very genuineness seemed to stand in question. Farquhar turned from the contemplation of their sordidness to the door. It had opened quietly, and Sylvia Omney stood on the threshold waiting. She was simply dressed in a dark clinging material which set off more perfectly the fair sweetness of her features.

"You wanted to speak to me, Richard?"

"Yes; it was good of you to come. I know I hadn't the right to ask. I behaved vilely last night."

She looked up into his face with an innocent wonder.

"Did you? I didn't see it. I only thought that you were just as I had always believed you to be—generous and chivalrous and loyal."

"Yes, but afterward. It isn't entirely only to act decently to a woman's face. Afterward I let my love for you turn me into a mad beast. It was an insult to your goodness. And for that I want you to forgive me."

"Why, then, I forgive you, Richard."

He bent his head.

"Thank you. And I have something more to say."

"And I to you, Richard."

Freckle-Face

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face?

Simply get an ounce of othine, double strength, from O. T. Erhart, or any druggist, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion. The sun and winds of March have a strong tendency to bring out freckles, and as a result more othine is sold in this month. Be sure to ask for the double strength othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

TRAMPS ARRESTED AT SPARTA FOR THEFT OF COPPER

Railroad Signals Fail to Respond and Seven Are Under Lock and Key Charged with Theft

SPARTA, Wis., March 26.—(Special.)—Seven hoboes are under arrest here charged with stealing 1,200 pounds of copper wire. Sheriff Geo. Boss found out why the electric signals on the Northwestern and the Milwaukee railroad have failed to work for several days.

Four of the men gave their names as Kelly, O'Neil, Downs and Dean.

For several days copper wires which form the connection between electric signals on the railroads, and current conductors on the tracks were missing. Each night more would be gone and an investigation was started by the sheriff.

The first clue to the robberies was found when it was learned that checks were being cashed on junk dealers here. Sheriff Boss found two suspicious characters loitering in the vicinity of the Milwaukee station yesterday afternoon. Information which they gave finally led to the arrest of the other five.

Kelly, O'Neil and Downs were seen carrying large bundles into the junk shop and were arrested after an exciting chase down the railroad tracks. O'Neil has only one leg, but he fought furiously. His companion drew a long jack knife on Sheriff Boss but was captured.

Last night two others tried to dispose of copper wire and were arrested. Sheriff Boss is of the belief the other tramps are engaged in the thieving and all railroad yards and outgoing trains are being watched.

PROHIBS AND WETS CLASH IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, March 26.—Prohibition will be made an issue in the mayoralty campaign, Arthur Burrage Farwell of the Dry Chicago Federation announced today. Representatives of the federation and the Chicago Law Enforcement league will call upon Democratic Nominee Robert M. Switzer and Republican Nominee William Hale Thompson, asking their views on the "dry" issue and if they will stand for a strict enforcement of the prohibition law if the city votes dry April 3, 1916.

"What we wish to establish is whether or not the successful candidate will promise prohibition if he wins," Farwell said. "We want both of them to pledge us they will enforce the law if it carries so we can be fortified against the argument that 'prohibition does not prohibit.'"

COST OF FEEDING STARVING BELGIANS

LIVERPOOL, March 15.—(By Mail to New York.)—"It will cost the United States $150,000,000 annually to feed the Belgians if this is to be a war of years," declared the members of the United States Central Belgian Relief commission here today en route to inspect conditions in King Albert's country. "Our committee is spending $3,000,000 a month now to feed 1,500,000 Belgians," said E. G. Lawrence, of New York City today. "Sixty vessels are chartered to carry food. Forty-five are now plying between the United States and Rotterdam but the number of dependent Belgians is increasing every day and those we are feeding are reported to be on half-rations."

Lawrence together with Miss Josephine Roche, a suffragist of Denver, will visit all industrial and agricultural centers of Belgium to report to the Belgian Relief committee in the United States. Lawrence declared today the trip will furnish information for replies to charges in the United States that there is greater need for food and clothing among the unemployed and poor in America.

Greatest Poets.

Homer, Lucretius, Dante, Shakespeare, Goethe, Milton, Shelley, Byron, Tennyson, Browning. Perhaps others might be added. It is largely a matter of taste and temperament—although there is but little room for argument about the first six names.

AEROPLANE DROPS BOMBS

SOUTHAMPTON, via London, March 26.—The British steamship Pandion, which arrived here today from Rotterdam, reports that yesterday in the vicinity of the North Hinder Lightship she was twice attacked by a German aeroplane.

Seven bombs were dropped by the aircraft, some of which fell very close to the Pandion, but the steamship escaped damage.

Help the Stomach Digest Your Food

When the stomach fails to digest and distribute that which is eaten, the bowels become clogged with a mass of waste and refuse that ferments and generates poisons that are gradually forced into the blood, causing distress and often serious illness.

Most people naturally object to the drastic cathartic and purgative agents that shock the system. A mild, gentle laxative, positive in its effect and that will quickly relieve constipation is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. It does not gripe or cramp, but acts easily and pleasantly and is therefore the most satisfactory remedy for children, women and elderly persons. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

AT ONCE! STOPS STOMACH MISERY AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy Stomachs feel fine.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

No, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

All Blood Disorders Quickly Driven Away

Strength, Power, Accomplishment are all Typified in S. S. S.

Some blood disorders become deeply rooted in the glands and tissues, and the mistake is made of resorting to drastic drugs. These only aggravate by causing other and worse troubles. A host of people know this to be true. They know from painful experience. To get right down into where the blood is vitiated requires S. S. S., the greatest blood purifier ever discovered. This remarkable remedy contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutriment and the medicinal elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food. Not only this, but if from the presence of some disturbing poison there is a local or general interference of nutrition to cause boils, carbuncles, abscesses and kindred troubles, S. S. S. so directs the local cells that this poison is rejected and

In a very brief time S. S. S. has the reconstructive process so under control that remarkable changes are observed. All eruptive places heal, mysterious pains and aches have disappeared, and from head to foot there is a conscious sensation of renewed health.

From the fact that S. S. S. is purely a botanical preparation, it is accepted by the weakest stomach and has great tonic influence. Not one drop of drugs or minerals is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and insist upon having it. And if you desire skillful advice upon any matter concerning the blood and skin write to The Swift Specific Co., 205 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Do not allow some zealous clerk to larrup the atmosphere in eloquence over something "Just as good" as S. S. S. Beware of all counterfeits.

MAY DAY MASQUE FOR NORMAL SCHOOL IS STUDENTS' PLAN

Myrick Park Suggested as Scene for Novel Attraction Arranged by Howard Jones

Work at the normal school on the new masque "Marsh and River," to be given in place of the regular May day fete this year, is well under way. The author, Howard Jones, is at present visiting his mother here and while in the city is assisting D. O. Coate, head of the English department at the normal, in casting the masque and selecting the site.

Previously the normal school has supported an annual May day fete which was given commencement week. This year Mr. Jones has composed something entirely new in this line of entertainment expressly for the normal school students graduating in June.

Howard Jones is a resident of the city and a graduate of the normal school class of 1910. Later he earned a Bachelor of Arts degree at the state university, and a Master of Arts degree in the University of Chicago. While in the local school he won many high honors as school orator and otherwise. Some time ago Mr. Jones wrote this beautiful masque and gave it to the La Crosse school.

The work of selecting students for the cast is the main task of the promoters at present. Several trips have been made to the region about Myrick park with hopes of settling the spot for the performance. The new plan is something entirely new for the students. The work at present is under the supervision of D. O. Coate.

PROSPECTS POINT TO RECORD CROP

Present Indications Are That All Marks Will Be Broken by 1915 Wheat

CHICAGO, March 26.—Every present indication points to all wheat crop records in the history of the country being broken for 1915. However, according to B. W. Snow, chief statistical expert for Bartlett, Frazier & Co., it would be mere guesswork now to attempt to estimate the 1915 grain crop in bushels. There is possibility, he declared today, for a crop of 900,000,000 bushels, but because no one can tell what the weather actually will be until the crop is cut, it would not be surprising if the yield ran as low as 500,000,000 bushels.

Last year's total winter and spring crop was 891,000,000 bushels. "With conditions similar to conditions last year," said Snow, "the 1915 crop should break all records. Last year 36,000,000 acres yielded a winter crop of 685,000,000 bushels. This year the winter acreage is between 41,000,000 and 42,000,000. So far weather conditions have been exceedingly encouraging for bumper crops. This weather encouragement has been particularly apparent in Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska, the 'dry' states. So far there has been every bit as much moisture in those states this year as there was in 1914."

Statistician Snow explained that it is even more a matter of haphazard guesswork to forecast estimates of other grains than of wheat. Oats, he explained, are just being seeded, the delay having been caused by too much rain west of the Mississippi. The noted grain expert refused to predict possibilities of higher or lower wheat and flour prices except to say that he believed the old law of supply and demand together with lessons learned from war conditions would hold.

BOY IS PAROLED HEAD IS EXAMINED

FREEMONT, Ill., March 26.—After being arrested a dozen or more times for various misdemeanors, Oscar Rath, 20 years old, yesterday accepted Judge E. O. Hurd's offer of parole, provided he submit to a surgical operation upon his head. Surgeons say they believe pressure of a bone on his brain has caused criminal tendencies and that removal of part of the skull will produce a cure.

Much in Brief Dream.
It is written of one of the most eminent of Englishmen who was dictating to his amanuensis chapters of an important work, and while so engaged was overcome by sleep. He dreamed of matters of great moment, of diplomatic conferences, exhausting many days and weeks. Becoming awake he chided his secretary for permitting him to sleep, and was astounded to be told by the scrivener that he had not finished the last sentence that had been dictated. Volumes have been written crammed with such experiences in infinite variety.

Duty Ever Pursues.

ALLEGED SWINDLER TAKEN TO NEW YORK

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 26.—George M. Rogers, alleged by federal postal authorities to have gotten $100,000 through a mail swindler in the last two years, was taken to New York yesterday to stand trial. Local officials were informed that Rogers was indicted on a similar charge in Philadelphia and "jumped" a $2,500 bail bond. He also is said to have been under indictment in Boston.

Lorlys E. Rogers as He Looks Today

This is the first photograph that has been taken of Lorlys Elton Rogers, the New York lawyer, since the strange story of his marriage came out in connection with the poisoning of two babies by Mrs. Walters. She is about to be tried for their death, and the photograph was taken when he appeared in connection with her arraignment. Rogers was married many years ago to a southern woman, who later got a divorce from him. He then married the sister of one of the best known professors at Columbia University. Later he established relations with Mrs. Walters, and two children were born to them. Believing he was about to leave her, she became despondent and poisoned the children and herself. The little ones died, but she recovered.

WAS TERROR OF THE ISLAND SEAS

Vessel Which Sank Six British Ships in 36 Hours Commanded by Noted
Naval Hero

LONDON, March 26.—The admiralty announces there is good reason to believe the submarine U-29 has been sunk with all hands.

Was Terror of Britons
NEW YORK, March 26.—If, as believed by the British admiralty, the U-29 has been sunk with all hands, the English are rid of the most destructive of all the German undersea horrors which have been preying on their shipping. On March 11 and 12, within thirty-six hours, the U-29 sank no less than six ships off the Scilly islands.

According to a letter from the captain of the steamer Headlands, one of the ships sunk, published by the London Daily Mail on March 13, the U-29 was commanded by Captain O. Weddigen, who won fame and the iron cross on the U-9 earlier in the war by sinking the British cruisers Hogue, Aboukir, Cressy and Hawke.

Hero Pays War's Penalty
Assuming this statement to be true, the loss of the U-29 "with all hands" means that Germany's most famous undersea hero has paid the penalty of his daring.

The U-29 was one of the largest, newest and best equipped of all the German submarines. She was said even to have a wireless outfit. She differed from most of the others in having a high bow which enabled her to run at great speed on the surface.

Another Steamer Lost
LONDON, March 26.—The British steamer Delmira has been torpedoed by a German submarine it was announced today.

The Delmira is a 3,459 ton steamer, owned by the British and Chilean Steamship company. Her port of registry is Liverpool.

MAYO SEPARATION PAPERS ARE FILED

SCRANTON, Pa., March 26.—Charging wilful and malicious desertion, the long expected divorce suit of Mrs. Florence Weeks Mayo, of this city against Virginius J. Mayo, manufacturer of New Haven, Conn., was filed here yesterday. The papers represent that Florence W. Mayo and Virginius J. Mayo have been man and wife since May 14, 1890. In December, 1897, Mayo is charged with wilfully and maliciously deserting his wife.

World's Oldest University.
Founded in the year 972 A. D., the Mohammedan university of El-Azhar ("the Luminous") is the oldest existing university in the world. It is the Oxford of the Moslem world, and is at present attended by upward of 10,000 students of all ages, and from every eastern country, from the Caucasus to Somaliland. Board and lodging is free. The teaching consists chiefly of Mohammedan dogma, which is laboriously committed to memory from sacred books.

The auditorium was filled with sorrowing friends and relatives of Mrs. Weston. The services were held at two o'clock. Before the public service in the church, there was a short service at the Weston home, 115 North Tenth street. Burial took place in the Weston family lot in Oak Grove cemetery.

The pall-bearers, all old friends of Mrs. Weston's, were A. N. Moore, J. W. Dalton, Thomas Aiken, Frank E. Pooler, E. S. Hebbard and Leonard Kleeber. Many relatives of Dr. and Mrs. Weston, called here by the illness and death of the latter, attended the funeral. Among them were Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Weston, Mason City, Ia.;

LATE QUARANTINE RELEASE COSTS SALEM CATTLE MEN LARGE SUM OF MONEY

MINNESOTA MEN WHO DIDN'T BID NOTIFIED TOO LATE

Prices of Thoroughbred Guernseys Held Down by Foot and Mouth Safeguard

MINNESOTA SHIPMENTS "O. K."

Federal Embargo on Trans-Mississippi Cargos Lifted; Prize Herd Is Sacrificed

(BY N. D. TEVIS.)

Acting upon a message which declared federal authorities would permit the shipment of cattle into districts quarantined from incoming stock owing to the foot and mouth epidemic, one buyer took advantage of abnormally low prices to buy a number of full bred Guernseys at the West Salem Guernsey Breeders' association sale yesterday. The fancy stock sold at a figure much lower than is customary, owing to the fact that foreign breeders were afraid to buy because shipment out of the state was doubtful.

The man with the message declared he had information that shipments would be allowed upon ten days notice, from districts not infected with the disease. This could not be verified in La Crosse today, and State Veterinarian O. S. Eliason, over the long distance telephone, declared that shipments could not be made except with the permission of the state veterinary officer of the state into which they were to be shipped. He said that as far as he knew there had been no change in the federal regulations.

Salem Welcomes Cattlemen
West Salem put on her best clothes and the village assumed a gala day atmosphere to welcome the 800 people coming from far and near. Ten states were represented among the 600 men and women who found seats and standing room in the spacious sale pavilion.

Although foreign buyers were not in prominence, those who came were there to buy Guernseys and the bidders had keen competition until every animal was disposed of.

La Crosse County in Lead
La Crosse county stood ahead of the world in more than one thing yesterday. It showed the world a herd of eighty Guernseys that cannot be equaled even on the Island of Guernsey, where the breed originally came from.

First, as it is in the production of butter, La Crosse county has now shown why she is and proved for all time the value of a single strain. Many in this vicinity have maintained that their "scrub" cattle can produce the same amount of butter fat as the recognized breeds, but their receipts, as shown by the West Salem and other creameries in this vicinity, show a far less percentage of the money-making element at the end of the year.

represented and the association members, among the pioneers in the "single strain" idea were more hopeful that the farmers and the cream specialists would soon come to a greater realization of the benefits of pure bred stock.

Foreign Buyers Absent
Approximately $20,000 was realized by the members, who are H. W. Griswold, A. L. Stubbs, B. L. Rundell, Harry Jewett, C. D. Griswold and M. B. Lee. While last year's sale was not as well attended as that of yesterday, the animals brought much higher prices. Authorized mail order bids from breeders in the state of Ohio with limits of $400 each could only be raised to slightly over $300. Bulls with ancestors who were many times champions and whose pedigrees are the best in the world, sold for $400 and in some instances could not bring a bid. This was anticipated, through the knowledge that foreign buyers would not be in attendance, and few bulls were placed on sale. "Gay's May King," recognized all over the country, sold for $425.

Guernsey heifers and cows, between the ages of a few months and three years held the attention of the buyers. The majority of these were bred by the West Salem association members although many were imported from the Island of Guernsey. All were registered cattle, and many were "American registered" while each "critter" contained the rarest of the Guernsey blood of the world.

Auctioneer Knocks "Scrubs"
In commenting upon pure bred stock, J. L. McIlraith, Grinnell, Ia., auctioneer, urged those buying to purchase at least one pure strain animal for their herds.

"If you can't afford more than one," he said, "you will be raising the efficiency of your stock just that much. If I had my way about the stock farms of this country, I would do away with fifty per cent of the stock and keep nothing but a single strain. In a few years to come, you will learn to appreciate what this sale of pure breeds means."

Famous Cows Represented
The direct descendants of the famous "Bob Rilmia," formerly the world's champion butter fat cow, and "Holden Fourth," the imported Guernsey bull owned by A. I. Stubbs, naturally brought the highest prices, although other animals who had themselves made records in the production of butter or whose ancestors had been the pick of the world's Guernsey cattle were in plenty.

Cattle Dressed Up
The cattle had been prepared to show off their qualities to the best advantage. Both from the standpoint of the cattle expert and the person who is not acquainted with prize cattle, the sight of the world's purest Guernseys paraded by their keepers on the sawdust platform was inspiring. The West Salem cattle breeders whose stock was on sale gave the pedigree of each animal, and showed in every instance blood which at one time or another had created sensations at state or world's fairs.

Several of the animals sold yesterday will be exhibited at the Panama Exposition this summer. Fifty per cent of the stock will take first or second prizes at many of the state fairs this fall.

Buy Unborn Calves
A feature of the sale was the offer to buy calves bred from cows

GUN CLUB HOLDS CUP TOURNAMENT

Local Shooters Will Contest Sunday for Loving Cup at the North Side Range

The second silver cup tournament of the La Crosse Gun club will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the club's range on the north side. A Surprise Straw shoot, a novelty event in which each shooter will receive a trophy according to the score he makes from a distance handicap, has been arranged in connection with the tournament. A silver loving cup will be presented to the highest gun.

BERNDT SENT TO PRISON
Suit started in circuit court today by Lizzie Berndt against Ruth A. Berndt, Dorothy Berndt and Herman Berndt, Jr., asks the recovery of city property which, it is alleged, was transferred to Mrs. Barbara Bach, mother of the plaintiff, for security on a $600 loan, and later divided among the children of the late Herman Berndt, Sr.

LUMBER MAGNATE DIES
AURORA, Ill., March 26.—John Stewart, 89, whose holdings of forest lands throughout the south and northwest were enormous, died at his home here today. His greatest holdings, perhaps were in Wisconsin, where he laid the foundations of his domains just before the Civil war.

In the sale, Mr. Stubbs and others made bonafide offers to buy unborn calves from cows which sold for lower prices than were offered for their offspring. Many animals were sold at figures which were less than the original price.

West Salem's hospitality was taxed in entertaining her visitors yesterday. The hotel was forced to feed more than had been anticipated, and homes were thrown open for the entertainment of the families of those participating in the sale.

Members of the association predict a marked increase in the valuation of Guernseys with the cessation of the quarantine, and complimented those purchasing upon the "snaps" secured.

Those at Sale
Among those present at the sale were: G. C. Hagenbaugh, Onalaska; Dale Rundell, Livingston, Wis.; H. F. Rundell, Livingston, Wis.; Chas. A. Wilkins, Plattville; J. C. Mallin, Prairie du Chien; A. H. Long, Prairie du Chien; A. B. Thompson, Galesville; J. L. Fruit and W. A. Freehoff, Waukesha; Lloyd Russell, Roberts, Wis.; Thomas Scales, Winona, Minn.; W. A. Stawson, Beloit; H. J. ## LA FOLLETTE IS OPTIMISTIC FOR NATION'S FUTURE

Says Monopoly Is Not Yet So Strong That It Can Successfully Resist "Surgical Statesmanship"

LARGE AUDIENCE GREETED SENATOR

Wisconsin Leader Sways Well Filled House in Lecture at Winona Last Evening

WINONA, Minn., March 26.—Robert M. La Follette, famous Wisconsin senator, believes that monopoly and combination in restraint of trade, while they have been firmly entrenched in even the most remote parts of the nation, are not yet so powerful that they can successfully defy the efforts of "the higher surgical statesmanship." He sounded a warning in his lecture before an audience at the Winona opera house last night. "We must take care," he said with a cautioning finger moving slowly, "that in this democracy the people love their country alike." He had been discussing the tendency toward the increase in cost of living and the desperate straits of the residents of some sections.

Last in Lecture Course
Mr. La Follette offered the final number of the Teachers' Joint Lecture course. The opera house was well filled with the record house of the series.

Mr. La Follette's contention was that with the progress of the country and the development of genius, the cost of living should have been continually decreased instead of having advanced. "There is something wrong," said he, "and you all know it—everybody knows it. No longer is it possible to tell about our great country, our splendid democracy, in some sections of the country. You people here, I understand, are rich; you do not feel it. But, let me tell you, in some portions of the country they are not so fortunate. They will not longer hear to some of the things it was possible to tell them about our country some years ago. It is true that their wages have increased but not commensurate with the increase in the cost of living. And here lies a danger. We must take care that all men love their country alike."

Sherman Law Throttled
The Sherman anti-trust law was applauded by Senator La Follette but, he said, "it never was given a chance for its life." And he blamed the presidents of the United States for that condition. He likened the growth of the monopolies to the growth of a cancer. The hatchet and the club no longer will suffice in treating with this problem, he said. It calls for "the highest surgical statesmanship," said he.

In the present administration the proper step has been taken, he said, and he gave President Wilson credit for bringing into existence the national trade commission, composed of five men whose duty it is to investigate all business. The entire government is behind this group of men, said he. He believed it is possible to accomplish tremendous good and to solve much of the problem through this commission.

LOSS OF CRAFT AND SCORE OF MEN IS BELIEVED CERTAIN

Absence of early reports from the rescue flotilla outside the harbor increased fears that the men aboard the missing submarine have lost their lives. The naval tug Navajo and several launches spent the whole night in their search, dragging a large circle with the spot two miles outside the harbor, where the F-4 went down, as the center. None of these vessels had reported early today.

Rear Admiral Charles B. Moore, commanding the Honolulu naval station, at midnight ordered every available vessel out for the search. Admiral Moore said there was some hope that, even if yet submerged, the men on the submarine might still be saved. The oxygen tanks had air, he said, for twenty-four hours submersion and, in addition, emergency tanks sufficient for several days more, unless some accident had burst the tanks. The F-4 submerged at 9:15 yesterday morning.

At Practice Maneuvers
The vessel was engaged in practice maneuvers with the W-1, P-2 and F-3. She is of the Holland type, built by the Seattle Construction & Drydock company at a cost of $500,000 in 1912 and is 160 feet long.

arbitrate and persuade them not to go to work, Hemleben and the others continued, he said. Butrom first struck Hemleben, Hemleben claims, and he was stunned by a blow on the top of the head.

The union men tell a different story. John D. Chubbuck, national organizer, who is handling the situation for the union here, said the assault was started by the non-union men hurling stones at the pickets and attacking them with clubs.

Mr. Chubbuck's Statement

He said: "John Rae and I have made an investigation, and have prevailed on the workers to be peaceful, create no violence, or destroy no property, or interfere with the mills in any way. We are always cautioning the workers that peaceful ways are the best, as it keeps public opinion with us."

"With reference to the trouble this morning, after calling those workers who were involved and questioning them as to what caused the trouble, we find that eight of the locked out workers who had been on picket duty were leaving their shift and coming down town."

"When they met between 25 and 30 of the workers now employed in the mills, who within a half block of them, the non-union men began to pick up stones and gathered close to the locked out workers they came to shove them off the railroad right of way, one striking at one of the locked out men with his dinner pail."

"That started the trouble and it was impossible for us to learn whether anyone was hurt or not."

Deplores the Incident

"I certainly deplore the fact that this trouble occurred."

"We will insist that the police picket this railroad and all other roads leading to that mill and keep those working in the mills out of trouble as well as the locked out ones."

"The police over at the mills have been prevailing upon the workers to go back. They have shown a more friendly spirit toward the mill owners than to the workers. We have said nothing about this sentiment until this morning when we brought it to the attention of the chief of police who declared the patrolmen have no right to show any partiality and are placed there only to do justice to both sides."

"The police immediately notified the peaceful pickets that they could no longer picket approaches to the mill and drove them from the road."

Insist on Picket Right
"We insist upon our rights of peaceful picketing. We demand that our own workers keep within the law."

"It has been reported by several of the pickets on the road this morning that one of the policemen had made the statement that from now on those working at the mills would arm themselves and defend themselves in any way as far as they were concerned."

"If this system will be tolerated it will be impossible for us to keep peace among the locked out workers or prevent trouble."

Mr. Funk's Statement

Albert P. Funk, manager of the rubber mills, related the incident as told him by his employees. The story was that a party of fifteen to twenty mill workers were approaching the works by way of the railroad tracks when they were surprised by a party of the locked out men, in about equal numbers, who sprang from cover of a pile of ties, brandishing clubs and rocks. These men, they said, set upon them, whereupon the workers fled. They said upon the appearance of the police their assailants scattered over the marsh.

In verification of this story Mr. Funk said two employees who reported a few moments earlier at the mill had seen the men hiding behind the ties, armed with clubs and stones. They will so testify.

BROGAN HELD BUT MAY BE LIBERATED

"Jack" Brogan is held in Park Falls for desertion. Arrived at that city with his attorney, Stanley Gordon, the La Crosse night watchman found that he had another wife, and that his La Crosse marriage was technically illegal.

Brogan's story, which sounds plausible, in view of his having openly married here, but 150 miles away, without changing his name, is that some years ago his wife started action for divorce, and that later she wrote him saying the divorce had been granted. Brogan promised to produce this letter. Later he had heard that the woman was dead.

Brogan expects to raise the money necessary to defray the cost of proceedings, and it is expected that his Park Falls wife will sue for a divorce. His release is expected. Attorney Gordon returns to Park Falls tonight.

MOTHER SUPERIOR'S RACE WITH DEATH CROSSES CONTINENT

If steam can outspeed death, Mother Superior Odelia Bogan's wish to die in Troy, N. Y., her old home, will be gratified. In a special car and attended by two nurses she passed through La Crosse at 12:45 this morning from St. Paul, where she has been ill for months. Mother Brogan is mother superior of the province of New York. The special car was attached to the Pioneer Limited of the Milwaukee road.

SUBSTITUTE ACT FEATURES BILL

Frances Nordstrom and Co. from Orpheum Time Present Laughable Sketch

A substitute act, hastily engaged at the last minute when Dare Austin "fell down" on his contract to appear here, is the hit of the bill at the Majestic this week. It is small wonder, for Frances Nordstrom and company, the substitute, present a sketch that is an Orpheum time feature and is now on its way to San Francisco for an engagement at the big exposition. It is an extremely humorous affair, presenting uniquely the case of a woman angry at her husband because of the lack of excitement in her life. She gets excitement, plenty of it, in a dream. The sketch made a tremendous hit last night.

Silber and North, the former an accomplished comedian of restraint, but effective talent, and the latter a very handsome girl, stopped the show, with their offering of "A Bashful Man and a Maid." It was a delightful nonsense, and well supported by a brace of good songs.

The Saxo Sextette, a feature attraction, played yesterday as a quintet, for Charles Marqueth, one of their troupe, was seriously ill with tonsillitis. The sextette cancelled the remainder of the engagement and returned to Chicago, where Marqueth has his home. Walter S. Melkjohn, the well known local prestidigitator, will fill their place on the bill, with some of his remarkable feats of magic.

The rest of the week's offering is of high class. Bryan Lee and Mary Cranston, two delightful Irish people, have an Irish singing and dancing act away above par. Lee sings in a beautiful lyric tenor, and Miss Cranston not only sings but plays the violin, and also does an Irish jig that was a winner, last night.

Expert juggling, accompanied by a running fire of comment on local news events, the audience, the performers and the war, marked the exceptional act of Campbell and Brady. Miss Brady also displayed some clever soft-shoe dancing. The act was especially notable for the deft club-juggling presented.

RESERVOIR SUIT OF THOS. WOOLEY IN CIRCUIT COURT

Judge C. A. Fowler Asked to Judge in Action for $5,000 Against the City

Testimony in the $5,000 suit instituted by Contractor Thomas Wooley against the city of La Crosse is still being heard before Judge Chester A. Fowler in circuit court today.

Attorney Frank Winter, representing the plaintiff, moved that the court sit as an arbitrary judiciary to decide whether to continue with the testimony or place the case in the hands of a referee.

Wooley is asking for the recovery of $5,000 for excavation work he said was done for the city in the construction of the Granddall bluff reservoir.

Attorneys for the city of La Crosse offered testimony that part of the work was done without authorization by the city.

Nothing is more disgusting than a young man trying to act old or an old man trying to act young.

the opening May. July and September futures showed overnight recessions of 1c, 1/2c and 1/2c respectively. Lower cables and light trading, caused further recessions later. Unsettled conditions in Europe was reflected in jumpy prices in the Chicago wheat pit. Prices on May and July options at one time dropped to $1.50 and $1.19, recessions of from 2 to 1/2c from the opening.

General selling of corn caused lower prices in that cereal today. Corn prices sympathized with fluctuations in wheat.

There was very little doing in oats prices tending lower, the trend in other grains being responsible.

Inactivity in provisions also caused lower prices in that market.

The wheat market closed at about the lowest figures of the day. The extreme weakness in wheat was due to reports that Turkey had broken with Germany and would sue for a separate peace. This would release wheat from southern Russia.

Corn was weak with wheat. Oats suffered from general liquidation and also from wheat sympathy.

Provisions were higher on free buying by some of the largest recent sellers.

Mrs. Shaw's room with some high-balls and found Darling there, partly

FAMOUS FRIGATE WILL BE BURNED

The Independence, Oldest
American Man-of-War
Afloat, Is Sold
Privately

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.—The Independence, oldest American man-of-war afloat, will be burned for the sake of the copper in her hull and other metal fixings.

This decision has been reached by Captain John H. Rinder of Berkeley, who recently purchased the vessel at auction for $3,515.

The Independence is the last of the war frigates built for the war of 1812 with England and is one of the most famous ships the American navy boasted. Her keel was laid down in 1812. In her day she was to the United States navy what the most modern superdreadnaughts is to the navies of today. She was the greatest fighting vessel afloat, boasting three decks and 74 guns.

In 1848 she was sent around the Horn and for many years was used as a patrol ship on the Pacific coast. Her headquarters were at Mare Island and she was in active service until 1863, when she was officially declared obsolete and assigned to the Mare Island navy yard as a training ship.

Last year the navy department decided to sell the old vessel, in spite of the protests by patriotic societies in all parts of the country. Captain Rinder bought the frigate, intending to exhibit her at the Panama-Pacific exposition, but the plans fell through.

tions at the Casino are "In the Hands of the Jury," and "Thirteen Down." The Bijou offers Marquette Clark in "The Goose Girl," "After Five," with Edward Ables, and "Miss Nell," played by Mary Pickford.

"Runaway June" Growing
Interest in the greatest serial story ever published in the movies, "Runaway June," is growing in La Crosse. The fourth installment shown at the Casino yesterday attracted the largest crowds since its appearance here, and "June" is a hit. The story of the runaway bride, who left her husband on their honeymoon because she would not depend upon him for support is distinct from other picture serials. The producers of "Runaway June" are following a new course of action, and are making the picture as it is being shown. As the winter styles change into spring styles, the June company change their costumes with them. The company is now in Bermuda, furnishing a new air to the play. It will return to this country shortly.

The Bijou Theater
"It's No Laughing Matter," the principal part of which was played by Maelyn Arbuckle closed at the Bijou Saturday, making attendance records and leaving a pleased public. The three succeeding days brought Marie Doro, a popular actress of the stage in "The Morals of Marcus," the story of a Turkish harem girl who has an odd adventure in England.

"The Stain," a six part dramatization of the novel by Forest Halsey held attention at the Bijou yesterday.

"Young Romance"
Some of the most exciting episodes in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "Young Romance," the film version of William C. DeMille's famous play were taken at the Catalina Islands off the coast of California. Edith Taliaferro, through natural acting ability brings the picture to a more than ordinary plane.

Clark in "Goose Girl"
Miss Marguerite Clark, the only rival of the famous Mary Pickford, will again seek favor with Bijou patrons Sunday in "The Goose Girl," the story of the peasant of royal birth who tends geese and comes in to her own through a chain of circumstances, the depicting of which holds an audience in laughter and tears from beginning to end. To know of Miss Clark's accomplishments, is to know that the "Goose Girl" will be one of the biggest attractions of the week.

Mary Pickford herself will be at the Bijou in "Miss Nell," beginning Easter Sunday and lasting three days.

"Mother's Roses"
Mrs. Mary Maurice, known to the moving picture public as "the most loved woman in pictures," is an attraction well worth seeing at the Casino.

"In the Hands of the Jury," with Anna Q. Nilson, the attraction at the Casino tomorrow contains an abundance of human interest, but without true. It has to do with the universal guilty conscience and holds the audience in suspense through its entire performance. Details are worked out to perfection, and the jury scene is as realistic as possible.

Mystery Still Enveloped
The fourteenth installment of the "Twenty Million Dollar Mystery," and "The Regenerating Love," featuring Ormi Halley and Earl Metcalf are the attractions at the Casino on Sunday.

Interest in the mystery story of the adventures of Zudora is increasing. Critics say the installment on Sunday is among the very best of the programs.

"The Regenerating Love," is a play which breathes originality, and is said to contain elements of photoplay ability out of the ordinary.

"The Deep Purple"
The Casino offers a double attraction Monday and Tuesday in Clara Kimball Young in "The Deep Purple," which has been seen in stage productions here. It is again true with this production, that the moving picture producer has been able to accomplish far greater results after years of popularity on the stage than were the stage producers. The scenes are more realistic, taken in natural settings, than are the scenes crowded in three or four short acts before the footlights. Nearly everyone knows the story of "The Deep Purple," and the picture will be a hit.

Five years ago the Edison company issued "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight," taken from the popular hymn. It became popular immediately and had a phenomenal run, was then taken off the market and finally released when demand was made upon it. The picture, showing at the Casino Wednesday, has been at local theaters three times previous.

"Thirteen Down"
Here is a picture with an all star cast. Francis X. Bushman, Lester Cuneo, Thomas Commerford and Beverly Bayne are all appearing in "Thirteen Down," at the Casino on Thursday, April 1.

In acting for the picture in one of the famous Chicago "loop" district bread lines, Bushman dresses as a tramp; approaches the bread line, hands one of the waiters a dollar to step out, and takes his place. All the time, the camera is working under cover of a dray wagon. Bushman gives the tramp the biggest surprise of his life by wanting to pay one dollar to get a half loaf of bread.

At The Dome
The long-awaited solution of the "Million Dollar Mystery" was shown at the Dome theater Monday. The show concluded one of the most interesting serial pictures ever shown in the city. A crowded house witnessed the performance.

Alice Joyce, the "Kalem Queen" as some of her admirers speak of her, appeared Sunday in "The Viper." The dainty little actress of the mute drama more than satisfied the hundreds of patrons who flocked to see her.

The third and fourth episodes of the "Perils of Pauline," were shown Tuesday to a crowded house. The pictures have met with much approval at the picture house. The fifth and sixth episodes will be shown on March 30.

The presentation of James Morrison in "Regan's Daughter," was given Wednesday and Thursday. The picture was in two reels. Tonight and tomorrow night a two-reel Lubin production, "His First Case," will be shown on the screen. The play deals with the experiences of a young lawyer in his first appearance before a court. Charles Sutton, in "The Poisoned Bit," will be at the theater Sunday. The picture is a two-reel Edison production.

Week's Offering In Movieland As Seen in La Crosse

By N. D. Tevis

"I have come to the conclusion that photoplays are the greatest power for good in the world. The results they can accomplish are even greater than the influence of the church. This is because almost the entire public attends photoplays houses, while the number who attend the various churches is limited. Motion pictures are an integral part of the lives of vast throngs."

—Francis X. Bushman, who will appear in "Thirteen Down," at the Casino next week.

Bushman, one of the favorites of moving picture audiences here, is "putting it strong," but he is undoubtedly honest in his belief that moving pictures are the greatest power for good. He accomplishes just one thing—Bushman makes the moving picture audience the jury—to decide on the class of plays, whether they be for good tendencies or bad.

The producer and the theater manager are just natural human beings who will show just the sort of films which their audiences like, and it is entirely up to the audience what kind of environment they are to live under while seeking recreation in "film land."

Burford Back With "Hunches"
Keeping his promise, Harry H. Burford, manager of the Bijou and Lyric theaters will arrive in La Crosse the latter part of this week from the land of moving pictures, California, and true to his word, he has a brand new set of "ideas" having to do with new features for his houses here which he will submit to the public in The Tribune "Movieland" column next week.

Burford has been touring the west with the DeLuxe Film special, a special train carrying moving picture producers and big theater managers from all over the country to the San Francisco exposition.

Good Pictures During Week
"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" with Beatriz Michelana; "It's No Laughing Matter," featuring the comedian of comedians, Maelyn Arbuckle, and Marie Doro in "The Morals of Marcus," were the best of the week, while shorter programs were of excellent character.

Best Pictures Coming

AMERICAN SAVES SYRIAN CHRISTIANS

PETROGRAD SENDS MEN TO SCENE

Turks and Kurds Said to Have Killed Many Male Assyrians and Abducted Girls

PETROGRAD, March 26.—Russian troops operating in the Persian province of Azerbaijan have been ordered to march immediately against bands of Turkish regulars and natives reported to have committed unspeakable outrages in northwestern Persia. It was announced here this afternoon.

This order followed the receipt of reports from Tiflis telling of outrages at Urumiah and in neighboring villages. The Turks and Kurds, according to reports from these villages, have executed several hundred Assyrian Christians and have carried scores of girls away as captives.

One report received here today from Tiflis gave Harry P. Packard, attached to the Presbyterian church mission at Urumiah, credit for saving the lives of more than 3,000 Assyrian facing massacre at Geog-tapa. Packard single-handed, faced the advancing Kurds, waving an American flag, according to a telegram from Tiflis. As a result of his parting, the Kurds drew off. Two hundred Assyrians had been executed before Packard arrived, according to Tiflis dispatches. In another village the Kurds killed every Assyrian male, including babies, and committed outrages against Christian women.

Thousands of Assyrian Christians have taken refuge in the American and French missions, according to dispatches from Tiflis, but their lives are threatened by mobs of raiding Kurds.

CULT LEADER IS HELD FOR DEATH

Head of "New Love" Religion Charged with Complicity in Mysterious Case

ALLIANCE, Ohio, March 26.—Following the death of Miss Amy Tanner, aged 23, here yesterday, P. A. George, high priest, and ten other members of the "New Love" religious cult, were arrested, charged with complicity in the girl's death.

Miss Tanner died at a local hospital after being removed from the headquarters of the cult at midnight. Physicians who conducted an autopsy this afternoon intimated a criminal operation had been performed on the girl. There were no traces of poison found, it was said.

Five of those arrested are women. George's testimony at the inquest today revealed the unusual tenets of the "New Love" cult.

"What is your idea of marriage?" asked the coroner.

"Those whom God has joined together are man and wife," George answered. "Those whom God has not joined, may act as man or wife to others who are not joined by God. They must obey God and suffer the consequences of the law."

"No, we believe in a legal marriage, but not unless God joins the parties."

George said he came to Alliance a year ago this April and established the brotherhood home. He said he had known Amy Tanner five months.

"She was run down spiritually," said George. "She told me she had

BISHOP LEAVES HIS ESTATE TO CHURCH

GREEN BAY, Wis., March 26.—The last will and testament of the late Bishop Joseph J. Fox was filed in probate court today. By the terms of the will the bulk of the bishop's possessions are left to the diocese wherein he had labored for many years as priest and prelate. A sum of $300 was left to each of his surviving relatives—two brothers, three sisters, one niece and one nephew—and the balance of the property and money was willed to the diocese of Green Bay to be used at the discretion of the next bishop, especially for Catholic educational work.

It is estimated that the estate is valued at between $25,000 and $30,000.

ANGELES LOOMS UP STRONG IN MEXICO

Washington Sees Bid for Mexican Presidency in Address to People of Monterey

WASHINGTON, March 26.—A new factor in the Mexican situation loomed up today. He was General Felipe Angeles, chief of artillery in Villa's army and declared to be the real candidate of the convention forces for first provisional presidency of Mexico should the Villa-Zapata combination finally triumph. Angeles, highly educated, a graduate of the Mexican military academy, made possible many of Villa's earliest victories and was responsible for the first break between Villa and Carranza. He is now in Monterey and advices received here today say his claims to the presidency are being widely promoted.

In order to demonstrate his qualifications there was circulated in diplomatic circles here today copies of his address to the people of Monterey when he recently took that city. Among other things he said:

"We have not come here representing fanaticism of any sort, nor are we here to commit atrocities or outrages; but on the contrary we are here to give assurances of safety; to co-operate with the people to aid them in their work, and to co-operate in the development of the prosperity of the country. Between us there are no Catholics, no Protestants, no Agnostics; all of them from the first to the last will be respected in their beliefs."

"This army, which many call Villistas, is the real army of the nation, and is sustained by the government created by the will of the people. In regard to the Carranzistas, we do not view them as enemies, but as mistaken brothers, victims of deceit on the part of ambitious persons."

It was pointed out today that by this address Angeles paved the way for an understanding with the Carranza forces, should Villa be successful in the impending battles near Matamoros and Tampico.

MILWAUKEE COUNTY BOARD BUYS LAND FOR THE STATE FAIR

MILWAUKEE, March 26.—The state fair situation probably was settled for all time when the Milwaukee county board voted to purchase a strip of land 120 feet wide, along the east side of the fair grounds. It will cost about $40,000, but the amount probably will be taken from the $225,000 state fair appropriation, passed by the last legislature. The board had previously voted several times against purchase of the land.

Chicagoan Regains Lead by Beating Daly 50 to 36 Last Night; Two Tie for Second Place

CHICAGO, March 26.—Bill Huey of Chicago is leading the three cushion billiard players in the championship tourney today, with an excellent chance of being declared king of the three rail sharks when the curtains ring down tonight. The Chicago dark horse has finished his schedule, winning nine and losing two. His nearest competitors are Daly and Moore, the New Yorkers, each with eight won and two lost. Daly and Moore both wind up their schedules today and a win for either or both of them will throw the tournament into a tie. In that case the deciding game or games will be played tomorrow. Moore plays Morfin tonight and Daly crosses with De Oro, the present champion.

Huey won his lead back by defeating Daly, 50-36, and Moore climbed into a tie for second place by trimming De Oro 50-35.

RIVAL QUAKERS PLAY
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 26.—Pat Moran's gang of Phillies arrived here this morning with hopes of taking the scalps of his brother Quakers of the American league. Two games will be played. Rookies Fish and Fletcher were sent home.

How easily we lose poise, swept by the current of life! Our root is not deep enough. Consider the lily resting on the face of the waters, its roots far below. How serene it rides the ripples, and how confidently it has sought the light, that its life may expand therein above the turbulence of the waves!—Trinities and Sanctities.

Conference in Madison Favors Limiting of Shows to Towns of First, Second and Third Classes

MADISON, Wis., March 26.—Curtilage of the boxing activities in the state were agreed to by the "fight" promoters and the assembly committee on state affairs at a hearing yesterday afternoon. As the result of the representations made by some of the citizens of Hudson, where thirteen contests have been held, the promoters agreed to an amendment that will permit boxing in cities of the first, second and third classes and prohibit these contests in cities of the fourth class, with 10,000 population or under. When the hearing was started on the bill to abolish the boxing law, it was announced that a delegation of citizens had come from Hudson who favored the immediate passage of a repeal bill.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW
Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water, and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this toxin from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well. For sale by Chas. Beyers, druggist, 563 Main street.

CUBAN SUN WORKS WELL FOR JOHNSON
Lil' Artha' Is Forced to Lop Off Work as the Warmth Gets Under

Chicago District Attorney Is Apparently Busy on White Slavery Case

HAVANA, March 26.—Cuba's warm sun is getting to Jack Johnson! The black champion who a week from next Sunday defends his title against Jess Willard, today declared he was going to do less training. He asserted he is losing weight too fast, due to the warm weather.

Johnson cut his boxing down to eight rounds yesterday and today expected to go only six. Willard again went twelve rounds yesterday with his sparring partners and said he expected to do the same today.

Jack Welch of San Francisco has been agreed upon as referee. Johnson last night assented to Welch's officiating after he had turned down a dozen other names.

CHICAGO, March 26.—Jack Johnson's case came into the limelight yesterday when District Attorney Charles C. Hoyne announced Chief Clinton G. Clabagh of the bureau of investigation had gone to New Orleans. Hoyne may join him there tomorrow, but refused to admit that the New Orleans trip is in connection with Johnson's return to the United States.

Hoyne admitted having read a cablegram from the pugilist in regard to returning here to face white slave charges after his fight with Willard.

NATIONALS BREAK CAMP
CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., Grit-fith's Nationals, split into two squads, broke training camp today. The Regulars went to Richmond for their first touring game; the Rookies to Alexandria to play a local club.

The Honor of the Boy Scout.
The most important scout virtue is that of honor. Indeed, that is the basis of all scout virtues and is closely allied to that of self-respect. When a scout promises to do a thing on his honor, he is bound to do it. The honor of a scout will not permit of anything but the highest and the best and the manliest. The honor of a scout is a sacred thing, and cannot be lightly set aside or trampled on.—From the Boy Scout Handbook.

FAN HITS JUDGE LANDIS ON HEAD

CHICAGO, March 26.—There's a baseball fan in Danville, Ill., who "has got sense." Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis said so yesterday when he announced receipt of a postal from a Danville bleacherite, in which the judge is told that "any school child could have settled that Fed-O. B. suit in three days."

Judge Landis said he was "warming up to the game" and the decision is expected within a few days.

CHICAGOANS ROLL GOOD IN DOUBLES

PEORIA, Ill., March 26.—A. Stehno and A. Kerlick of Chicago furnished the feature of the American Bowling Congress tournament yesterday, counting 1,195 in the doubles. Kerlick collected 638 pins. That put them in tenth place.

ROOKIES AND REGULARS

ST. LOUIS.—With the Cardinals in town and keeping in trim and the Browns expected tonight, the fans launched into their last day of ante-season anxiety, pinning their hopes on the weather man. If he's lenient there'll be an interleague game tomorrow. The Browns left Texas last night.

HAVANA.—Willett and Watson pitching for the regulars, dished up mid-season baseball yesterday, routing the Yans 6 to 2. Davenport went the route for the Rookies. Deal, Johnson and Borton, on the Slops, infield, are bringing the inner defense to big league standard.

MARLIN SPRINGS, Texas.—Pol Peritt breathed a long, deep sigh of relief today. There is no chance of the Cards getting him back. Huggins has accepted Bob Rescher's terms and the Giant outfielder has departed to join the St. Louis club.

DAYTONA, Fla.—The Superbas, having tucked another victory over the Cuban Reds under their belt, eagerly await the coming of the New York Yanks tomorrow. Robbie's men expect to win four straight from Donovan's crew.

SAVANNAH, Ga.—Practice here was limited to an hour's limbering up early today. The Yanks were due to take a train at noon for Daytona, where they meet the Superbas tomorrow.

M'COMBS, Miss.—The Brook-Feds stopped off here just long enough to wallop the home boys, 25 to 1, yesterday. It was a parade around the bases for the Feds.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—Manager Clark effected a general shakeup in his Pirate teams yesterday and they battled to a tie, 3 to 3. Wagner took charge of the Regulars and Viox the Yannigans.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—The Rebel regulars took the Yannigans into camp yesterday by the score of 2 to 1. Allen and Camnitz held the drubbing handed them yesterday at Lakeland by the Louisville Colonels, 7 to 1.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—The Tiger Regulars arrived here today for a game with the Pelicans. Jennings saw his boys wallop Mobile for the third time yesterday, 10 to 4, the Bengals getting thirteen hits.

TAMPA, Fla.—The Cubs are back on their own back lot today vowing to even up for the drubbing handed them yesterday at Lakeland by the Louisville Colonels, 7 to 1.

WHITE AND CROSS BATTLE TO DRAW

Chicagoan and New Yorker Go Ten Rounds for Even Money at Madison Square

NEW YORK, March 26.—New York's fight critics were today hopelessly divided over the result of the slashing, slam-bang ten round fight between Leach Cross, New York dentist, and Charley White, Chicago's pride, at Madison Square Garden last night. One-third gave White a shade, another third handed the verdict to Cross, while the other third said a draw was the only possible verdict.

It was a tearing, ripping battle all the way. When both fighters left the ring they looked as though they had been mauled by threshing machines. White outclassed Cross at cleverness, but the dentist's crouching position baffled the westerner.

FITZSIMMONS GETS PERMIT TO MARRY FOR THIRD TIME

NEW YORK, March 26.—After much effort Bob Fitzsimmons, freckled ex-heavyweight champion of the world, was to be married the fourth time today. Refused a license at Newark, N. J., several days ago, yesterday he applied in Brooklyn for the certificate. He had to produce records of his divorces and by the time he had got them the Brooklyn marriage license office had closed. Fitz expected to be on hand early today. Miss Zellin, of Newark will be the ex-champion's fourth bride.

NOBBY FOOTWEAR COMES THIS YEAR

Short Skirt Makes Wearing of Chic Running Gear Without Doubt a Necessity

BY MARGAET MASON
(Written for the United Press.)
Stunning Sara's short skirt shows stockings sheer and sleeky.
Also slippers smart of suede.
Coarse they do, they're squeezey.

NEW YORK, March 26.—It boots you naught if you be not well shod.
This spring for the shoddily shod will not only need a shine but be one.
What are the new short full skirts good for anyway if not to show tool-ies smartly slipped and sheerly socked. Never has the running gear been in such bewilderingly brilliant condition as offered in the diverse footgear for 1915. Having been given an inch the shoe designers have taken all feet by storm with their many fascinating creations. The last fashions have become the first consideration of milady's spring wardrobe.

Because of the great popularity of the high laced boot this winter the low laced shoe or Oxford tie is being received with welcoming feet. In its most popular rejuvenated form it comes with a black patent kid vamp and upper of buckskin in all shades of grey, tan and brown. White uppers of buckskin with the black patent kid vamps are also extremely smart especially with the many all black and white costumes of stripes, polka dots and checks. On all the new spring models the long slender English last in combination with the high Louis XV heel is noticeable.

Pumps Popular
In spite of the Oxfords' return the pump still lingers in the good graces and on the graceful feet of the woman of fashion and it also like the Oxford is most popular in the combination of two colors, the black patent kid or bronze vamp and the colored buckskin top. Pumps and Oxfords in entire buckskin of grey, tan, bronze or white are also very good and fine Russian leather shoes both high and low in the delicate shades of champagne, pearl grey and cream are to be much worn in one tone schemes or in combination with the black or darker shaded leathers.

All black patent kid slippers with two or three narrow straps over the instep are offered for wear with light tinted and white silk hosiery and the all bronze slipper with straps is also used successfully with the light toned stockings.

It is amazing with what tenacity the high shoe clings like ivy to the well rounded limb. It seems loath to give the low shoe a chance. They certainly come high both figuratively and monetarily, the most swaggers of them, for they are made of the finest softest Russian leather in either white or champagne colors, offset with tiny tips or black patent kid and a border of the same up each side of the lacing and around the top. You the bound to take more than one last look at these striking last fashions.

Satin Slipper for Evening
For evening and dance wear the plain satin slipper either strapped or in simple pump form has the stamp of modish approval. It comes in all colors of satin and it is equally smart to match your slipper to your gown or to wear a contrasting shade.

Perhaps the newest and most unique of the evening slippers is a model with its upper of one shade and its vamp of a contrasting lighter tint braided in horizontal stripes with braid the same color as the darker upper. Evening slippers of brocade and metallic tissues are decidedly passe but beaded ones of bronze still toe the fashion line.

Sport shoes of white buckskin with soles equally snowy of white felt or white rubber are extremely effective this year with trimmings and bandings of colored leather. Us-

DARNELL INSANITY ACTION DROPPED

PEORIA, Ill., March 26.—Insanty proceedings against Milton Dar-ty court yesterday by Attorney H. L.

Kelly, the petitioner.

Some men go to church just to get ually these colored trimmings are of mahogany colored or green leather but any colors are permissible.

Among the high sport shoes the one of white buckskin with a heel very low and flat of mahogany calf, a tip and stripe across the vamp of the same leather and facings up each side of the front lacing and a stripe up the back of the mahogany is the very sportiest.

Assuredly there is no excuse this year for putting your feet down na-less you can put the best foot foremost. To the tasteful woman with good understanding that means getting there with both feet.

SAGE TEA DANDY

TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea recipe are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

MAIL CLERK IS TRIED FOR THEFT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 26.—Charged with the theft of $25,000 while in transit in May, 1912, from the Continental and Commercial National bank of Chicago to Pasadena, Cal., Charles D. Oldfield, railway mail clerk, was yesterday arraigned before United States Commissioner Claffin.

Two years ago a wind storm at Leavenworth unroofed several small buildings and scattered nearly $2,000 of $20 bills in the street. No one claimed them.

With the serial number postoffice inspectors learned that the money had disappeared from the mails between Kansas City and La Junta, Col. Oldfield was one of three clerks in the car that carried the money. Purchase of a $6,000 home resulted in his arrest.

Oldfield insists the authorities "have nothing on me."

TRANSPORTS WILL HANDLE REFUGEES

WASHINGTON, March 26.—An army transport will take foreign refugees from Tampico if necessary, it was said at the war department. Fighting was said to be already in progress and increasing in the city's vicinity. The Villistas who left Monterey several days ago are now attacking the Carranzistas at Matamoros. Villa himself is reported in command.

A message from General Carranza claims a sweeping victory over Villistas at Ebanna. The state department stated no information had been received regarding Leonard Worcester, reported held for ransom in Mexico.

NO LUNGER SUFFERS FROM CHRONIC BRONCHITIS

MRS. IDA NIGHTINGALE

"I can not praise Nature's Creation enough for it saved my life." This is from the statement—made June 21, 1914—by Mrs. Ida Nightingale, R. R. 12, Chalmers, Ind., who suffered severely from chronic bronchitis until she began taking Nature's Creation.

Continuing, she says: "A year ago I was in a very bad condition. I was so nervous at night that when I went to bed I would lie for an hour and jerk. I would have to get up and walk the floor. It seemed I had no strength and was so constipated that sometimes my bowels would not move for from three to five days. My stomach was bad. I couldn't walk any distance, could not wash or iron. I worked some all the time for I was afraid to give up and go to bed for fear I would never get up."

"I began taking Nature's Creation and now sleep fine. My nerves scarcely bother me and I can now breathe freely where before I had to go out of doors mornings to get my breath. Bowels are fine; I do my own washing, etc. No more nervous sick headaches. I weighed 110 pounds, but since taking Nature's Creation, weigh 125."

Every day throughout the country Nature's Creation is bringing blessed relief to sufferers from tuberculosis and the conditions leading to it—such as asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, impure blood and run-down system. Persons suffering from any of these ailments really can not afford to be without this remedy, for actual records show that in nearly all cases, Nature's Creation is the one Medicine that brings the desired results. Write today for copy of our new booklet, "Truth," containing photos and testimonials of former sufferers. Address: Elmer Hansen, 22 Sentinel Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis. Nature's Creation is not a patent medicine and is not sold in drug stores. Beware of substitutes—demand the original and genuine Nature's Creation. ### RECOGNIZES WAR NURSE ON FILM AS ABSENT WIFE; BEGS HER TO COME HOME

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Campbell; section of movie film showing Mrs. Campbell (arrow) as a war nurse.

While attending a moving picture show recently A. A. Campbell of Cincinnati sat and watched a woman whom he identified as his missing wife step from the steamer La Lorraine at Havre, France. She was with a company of war nurses. His wife left him a year ago, and all his efforts to locate her, until he identified her on the film, were in vain. He has written a letter to her in care of the French government, begging her to come back and live with him again.

GERMANS USE GRENADES OF SIZE OF BASEBALL IN WESTERN TRENCHES

JACOBS CATCHES BOMB ONE DAY AND RETURNS IT

Men in Legion Make Use of Many German Inventions Including the "Beet Coats"

ARTICLE NO. EIGHT.
BY PHIL RADER
(Copyright, 1915, by United Press.)

LONDON, March 1.—What Christy Mathewson could do to the Germans near our trenches! The Germans are masters of new tricks, or of adapting old tricks to new purposes, but their hand grenade stunt would put them at the mercy of the great American ball players.

The hand grenade is about the size of a baseball and it weighs only a few ounces more. It has four little buttons on it which must strike with a blow of four or five pounds in order to cause an explosion, so a man can handle one in his hands with perfect safety.

I used to watch the Germans toss these bombs like school girls or like boys pitching nickels at a crack and all us Americans used to watch the inefficiency of the bomb in such untrained hands. We were considered the best bomb throwers of all, because we pitched them with force. A man with the aim of a trained pitcher could have worked havoc with them. He could have kept battering away at a trench—and the German line was only forty-five feet away from ours—until he had worn out the trench with repeated explosions.

Man Catches Bomb

Eugene Jacobs, the man who left his butcher shop in Pawtucket to come and fight the Germans because they had destroyed his birthplace in Belgium, saved his life and perhaps several other lives one day by catching one of these bombs, as if it were a baseball, one day. He threw it back, and it exploded in one of the German trenches.

There was a huge Swede in my section who swung the butt end of his rifle at one of these bombs one day and hit it. There was a terrific explosion and he was found brained. Why he did such a foolish thing, I don't know. A man's nerves play him strange tricks in the trenches, and you find yourself tempted to do dangerous things, just as some persons find themselves wanting to jump from high places. I suppose the Swede had been tempted time and again to stop one of the bombs with his rifle and one day the temptation became too strong.

Germans Wear Armor

The Germans had another trick that reminded me of the American game of football. Now and then a few of them would clamber out of the trenches under a terrific fire to cut the barb wire entanglements. They wore armor over their bodies and heads.

They were gruesome looking objects, but they reminded me, however, for all the world, of football players. We never killed any of these armored men, but we usually dropped them by hitting them in the legs. It seemed that their shin guards were not as protective as the rest of their odd suit.

Another new invention, used by the Germans, was a swivel, fixed in the cement, on which the Germans swung their rifles. Each man would fix his aim at a certain very small section of our trenches and, when he was ordered to shoot, he could reach up and pull his trigger without raising his head. It was merely artillery practice, applied to rifles and it had a deadly effect.

White Lights Also

The white night lights which were shot into the air and then hovered over the trenches, suspended from small parachutes were introduced by the Germans but it wasn't long before we had them too.

It was on the artillery line that the French developed the new ideas. The German gun kicks with each discharge. It rears back on its wheels, slews around and must usually be re-aimed. But the wonderful French gun, known as the "soixante quinze," fires twenty 2.9 inch shells a minute. The recoil is caught in cylinders filled with glycerine. The gun loads itself automatically and it never loses its aim. And, on our part of the line, all the new inventions which the Germans developed, could not overcome the great advantage which the French held on account of the "soixante quinze" gun. In its way this gun is as marvelous and revolutionary as the great 42-centimeter guns of the Germans.

German Invent "Beet Coat"

The "beet coat," as we called it, was one of the cleverest German inventions that we saw in our part of the line. All of the country around us and the fields in which our trenches were dug was sugar beet farm land and the landscape was a vista of beet leaves.

One day we saw a mound of these leaves heaving in a peculiar fashion. "It's only a mole digging," said our lieutenant.

But suddenly the whole pile moved and hunched forward. We began to shoot and to our amazement, the beet leaves rose on two strong German legs and dashed back to the trenches. We laughed uproariously. The Germans reminded us Ameri-

LEADER OF BOER REVOLT ESCAPES

Lieut. Col. Maritz Breaks Out of Prison and Is Reported Fleeing to Central Africa

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, March 26.—Lieutenant Colonel Maritz, leader of the Boer rebellion of last October, has escaped from his prison camp and fled toward Central Africa, according to information received here today.

Maritz, in command of an army for the invasion of German Southwest Africa, in October mutinied and led part of his command over to the Germans, being joined by Generals De Wet and Beyers.

Maritz and De Wet were captured. Beyers is reported to have been drowned. The Capetown assembly yesterday voted that the death penalty should not be imposed upon Maritz and other rebels.

cans of Montgomery or Stone in their queer disguises.

We found out later that the Germans would take a gunnysack, cut head and armholes in it, pin beet leaves to the sack and then wear the sack like a coat. If a man moved carefully along on his stomach, the chances of his being seen were very small.

Men Steal Invention

I was detailed with two other men to burn a straw stack in which the Germans had hidden machine guns. We spent the day in making "beet coats" and at 9 o'clock in the evening we donned them and started out on our hundred yard crawl through the beet fields. We got to the stack, fixed the fuse, lit the fuse with a match held under a coat, crawled back to the trench and five minutes later the stack was ablaze.

The stack had been hollowed out and the Germans had placed four machine guns in it. We saw the wrecks of these guns the next day and later my two comrades and myself were "mentioned in dispatches" for firing the stack. Without our "beet coats" invented by the Germans, we would not have succeeded, for several times the white lights filled the air while we stretched ourselves on our stomachs among the beets. "Beating it with beets" was the name we gave to this stunt of wearing "beet coats."

WHITE SLAVER PARDONED

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Touched by word that George Savage, a prisoner in the Minnesota penitentiary, was dying, President Wilson has signed a pardon, and orders were telegraphed to the warden to release the man. Savage was serving a sentence of five years, imposed in St. Paul for violation of the Mann "white slave" law.

The Real Thing.

An aim in life is the only fortune worth the finding, says Stevenson, and it is not to be found in foreign lands, but in the heart itself.

SHE COULDN'T BE BETTER DRESSED

This young woman could not be more fashionably dressed. Her suit is of the favorite fawn colored cravat cloth with the popular circular skirt. The jacket is three-quarters length, pointed on the sides. A fawn colored suede belt and a slightly standing collar completes the suit. The Tam-o-Shanter hat is of white corduroy velvet with two tassels on the side. The shoes are laced on the side and a little rosette at the top of the lacing sets off the white kid.

TO UPLIFT MAIDS IS AIM OF SOLONS

Back Stairs Courtships and Grog Shop Meetings Not Conducive to Morals Says Minkley

MADISON, Wis., March 26.—(Special.)—Backstairs courtship and its shortcomings were described by assemblyman Carl Minkley at the hearing of his bill for the "uplift" of the servant girl before house committee on labor Thursday afternoon.

"The American domestic is up against it in the matter of courtship," said Mr. Minkley. "Like every other young woman she has leanings toward a home of her own and like every other young woman it is up to her to corral a young man. But how can she do this? She has no place in the home of her employer to entertain her beau. So she meets him in dance halls, on street corners and in palm gardens.

"In many cities and towns the well known 'family entrance' is the only place that a couple so situated can go. If the man is sincere, this sort of a courtship leads to marriage. If he is not, it often leads to a few drinks, a wrong step and the ultimate undoing of the girl. My bill makes a place for the girl to entertain her 'company' in the home of her employer. The bill was supported by a large number of women workers and employers who bore out the contention of Mr. Minkley.

MAMMA, DADDY AND CHILDREN ALL LOVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

Harmless "fruit laxative" cleanses stomach, liver and bowels

A delicious cure for constipation, biliousness, sick headache, sour stomach, indigestion, coated tongue, sallowness—take "California Syrup of Figs." For the cause of all this distress lies in a torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

A tablespoonful tonight means all constipation, poison, waste matter, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved out of your system by morning without griping. Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself or your children, because this delicious fruit laxative can not cause injury. Even a delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel regulator and tonic ever devised.

Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine; so ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs." Say to your druggist, "I want only that made by the 'California Fig Syrup Company.'" This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.

All structures of more than two stories in height must be equipped with adequate fire escape facilities. Fire chiefs, fire marshals, city officials, and the state commissioner of labor are charged with the enforcement of the law. School buildings, lodging houses, theaters, public halls, manufacturing and mercantile establishments are affected.

VAST NUMBER OF BELGIANS HELPED

One Million Four Hundred Thousand People Cared for by Relief Commission

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 12.—(By Mail to New York.)—One million four thousand people, who are absolutely destitute of any other resource, are now being cared for daily in Belgium by the Belgian-American relief commission.

This organization has been fully perfected in all parts of the country. More than 50,000 volunteers are now enrolled in the work of distributing relief and bureaus have been established in all of the principal cities and towns.

One of the first tasks of the central bureau has been the securing of accurate figures of the manner in which the Belgian population has been dispersed by the war. On the first of last August the little kingdom had a population of 7,700,000. Of those who fled before the German advance and occupation 110,000 found refuge in England, 350,000 in Holland and 50,000 in France. Still others scattered in different countries bring the total number that fled and that is still residing out of the homeland up to 700,000.

The province of Liege is the one in which destitution is greater than any other. It suffered the severest of all the Belgian provinces. A total of 300,000 are being cared for there by the relief commission. In the province of Hainaut there are 150,000 helpless.

In this province of the rationals allowed by the German administration to the population is limited to 125 grammes of bread a day. The rations of the German soldier is 750 grammes. At Antwerp as a special favor an increase has been made to 250 grammes a day for the population.

TEXAS CHILDREN LEARN HOG RAISING

DALLAS, Texas, March 26.—Texas will do its share to save the country from a meat famine. Of 20,000 men, boys and girls who have entered the contests of the Texas Industrial congress for farm products, 1,200 are in the hog club. As many more are listed in the various other branches of the livestock industry, but hogs are considered the likeliest money producers.

A circular to the hog club contestants, telling how to get the best results, says:

"Choose a young pig. One recently weaned, whose mother has received the right care, and which is not a runt, should be chosen.

"If a hog is kept in a dry lot and fed corn only, he will lose the feeder money every time. If a hog is given all the skim milk he can drink, with an ear of corn each day half an ear when he is small, he will grow fat and make the feeder money."

"The hog should be given a chance to keep himself clean. A scratching place with a gunny sack dipped in kerosene nallied on it will serve to rid him of dirt and most of the vermin frequently. But be sure to get a good pig. Don't use a mongrel or a cross breed."

What Gives Milk Its Color.

Recent experiments show that the color of milk is chiefly due to the presence of carotin, a coloring matter found abundantly in green plants, especially in grass. The yellow pigments of our bodies also consist of carotin, which is probably derived chiefly from our food.

GOVERNMENT PICKS SITE FOR TERMINAL

Tidewater Terminal of the Alaska Railroad Expected to Be Located at Seward

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The tidewater terminal of the government's Alaska railroad will be at Seward, present terminal of the Alaskan Northern railroad. This became known here yesterday. The purchase of this terminal probably will be one of the first steps in the big project.

Intimation concerning the route has been withheld absolutely by President Wilson and formal announcement will not be made until he is ready to make it. Every person connected with the undertaking has maintained silence on the question of the route, aside from admitting the consideration of three possible ones.

The Seward Susitana valley route lies nearer the Matanuska coal fields desired for the navy's use, than either of the other suggested lines. The Alaskan Northern railroad, about seventy miles long, extending from Seward to Knik, is owned by Canadian bankers.

Benjamin R. Tillman, Jr., and Joseph P. Cotton, counsel to the Alaska engineering commission, have been working on the contract for the road's purchase.

It is believed the railroad will be built directly by the government, as

WORKERS BATTLE WITH STICKS AT RAILROAD BRIDGE

BOTH BODIES DENY THAT THEY TOOK AGGRESSIVE STEP; WARRANTS ARE ISSUED

The Wisconsin Industrial commission today has commented to attempt an adjustment of the difficulties between the rubber workers and employers. In a statement to Attorney Fred H. Hartwell, attorney for the locked out employees, the commission points out that it has no power to compel the employers or employees to arbitrate but will act as arbitrators merely in a friendly way. "Everything must be voluntary," are the words of the commission.

For the first time since the union rubber workers of the La Crosse Rubber Mills company have been at the plant, the two opposing factions—the locked out men and the non-union workers—came together today. The incident occurred on the night of way of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, where the railroad bridge crosses the La Crosse river.

Police declare the battle waged on the night of March 25, when a riotous mob of about 100 men, some armed with sticks and stones, and others with clubs, broke into the plant and set fire to the buildings. The rioters were driven off by the police, but the damage to the plant was considerable. The police also issued warrants for the arrest of several of the rioters.

As a result of the fracas, there are a lot of sore heads and black eyes among both factions, but only one, Frank Netwell, was seriously hurt. Netwell was taken to the Lutheran hospital for treatment for wounds on the face and head, which he declares were inflicted with a heavy club.

Warrants were issued for the arrest of several of the rioters. The police also issued warrants for the arrest of several of the non-union workers who were alleged to have been in the riot.

Both the locked out workers and the non-union hands now working at the plant deny responsibility for the affair. The non-union men, declare the other faction, "laid for them with clubs," while the union men declare they were attacked by the non-union men.

GRAFTER WILL BE DISGRACED BEFORE HE STARTS TERM

PARIS, March 26.—Francis Desolux, former paymaster of the French army, was convicted yesterday of embezzling army supplies which he sent to his "friend," the beautiful Madame Bechoff. He will be publicly degraded before he begins a seven year prison sentence. It was announced today.

MEXICO CITY FLAG CASE WILL NOT BE TAMPICO INCIDENT

Washington Holds That the McManus Murder Was Act of Individual Revenge and Not Official

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Mal-treatment of the American flag by Zapatlites, following the murder in Mexico of John B. McManus, Chicago dairyman, will not be made another Tampico incident. This was emphasized at the state department and at the White House today.

It was held that the murder of McManus and the violation of the American colors and of the seal of the Brazilian consulate placed on McManus' door for protection was by men who attacked McManus for revenge, and was in no way countenanced by their responsible officers.

About Tampico both Villistas and Carranzistas are claiming victory in the initial skirmishing now in progress. Both sides are frantically hurrying reinforcements.

With the battleship Georgia and the cruiser Des Moines at Tampico and the vessels loading at will, officials were confident that the 120,000 bales of sisal fibre stored there would be enroute to the United States within a fortnight.

BURSTING A BLOOD VESSEL WHICH INDUCED respiratory paralysis, caused the death of Charles White Lockwood, 44, managing editor of the Muncie Evening Press, and one of the best known newspaper men of northern Indiana, at his home in this city shortly after 11 o'clock last night.

"In view of the fact that the city of La Crosse owns a bridge across the Mississippi river and charges Minnesota farmers twenty-five cents for the use of the bridge when the farmers furnish their own vehicles and motive power, we do not feel that the citizens of La Crosse are in a position to justify their criticism of our (arbitrary twenty-five cent) bridge charge."—Letter from Geo. B. Haynes, general passenger agent of the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co., sent to D. W. MacWillie, president of the Manufacturers' and Jobbers' club.

The C. M. & St. P. Ry. company has established an arbitrary toll of twenty-five cents, in addition to regular fare, for passengers coming into La Crosse over its Mississippi bridge. The above letter shows that the company is making the tolls this city maintains upon its own wagon bridge an excuse for refusing to remove this rail bridge toll.

There are two doors only by which Minnesota trade can enter La Crosse. They are the wagon bridge and the railroad bridge. Mr. Haynes' letter, quoted above, was in answer to a letter from Mr. Eldridge, general superintendent of the road, in which the latter had assured him the road was LOSING A LARGE SUM OF MONEY EACH YEAR because Minnesota people ARE REFUSING TO COME TO LA CROSSE AS LONG AS THEY HAVE TO PAY THE TWENTY-FIVE CENT TOLL.

This statement is founded on the railroad company's official records showing loss of business over the railway bridge.

The hundreds of people whom these records show are kept away by the railway bridge toll mean a loss of but thirty-seven cents each to the company, yet the amount causes the superintendent to protest. But, in what they would spend here, the loss of these same people means a vastly greater loss to La Crosse.

And, since it is proved that the railroad bridge tolls are keeping hundreds of people out of La Crosse, can anyone doubt that the wagon bridge tolls are keeping out many more hundreds?

La Crosse can't prosecute a successful campaign to have the railroad bridge tolls removed so long as it charges tolls on its wagon bridge. Both doors leading from Minnesota are closed by tolls.

If La Crosse will open one door, the vigorous campaign now contemplated may result in the other door being opened. But until the city opens, the railroad will not.

THE HAGUE, March 26.—The Dutch cabinet was summoned in an extraordinary session this afternoon to discuss the sinking of the Dutch steamer Medea by the German submarine U-28 in the English channel. The cabinet meeting was called following an official conference between the minister of marine, the chief of the Dutch naval staff and the foreign minister.

LONDON, March 26.—Neutral vessels, carrying cargoes to English ports, as well as British merchantmen, are suffering from the German policy of reprisals through the air.

Captain Vogt of the Norwegian steamer Diana, reported on his arrival at South Shields today that several German aviators attacked the Diana as she passed out of the English channel. They threw at least 500 darts, a foot long and sharp pointed, upon the deck of the Diana, Vogt said.

CHILE PROTESTS VIOLATIONS OF HER NEUTRALITY

SANTIAGO, Chile, March 26.—The Chilean government today addressed protests to both Germany and England against alleged violation of Chilean neutrality, particularly in the engagement at Juan Fernandez island.

The German cruiser Dresden stayed four days at Juan Fernandez, notwithstanding the notice to leave, before she was sunk by the British warships, the government asserted, and was at anchor in Chilean waters when she was attacked.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 26.—Samuel M. John P. Leyendecker, attorney for the directors, preferred the charges. The girls are said to have ranged in ages from 20 to 15.

PERSIAN MASSACRE CAUSES U. S. TO ASK GUARD FOR MISSIONS

With Turks and Kurds Ravaging Christian Communities U. S. Demands Protection

TROUBLE CENTERS AT URUMIAN

MISSIONS HOIST U. S. FLAG

Many of Natives Exposed to Violence Members of American Presbyterian Sect

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The massacre of foreign missionaries in Northwestern Persia, and the desperate plight in which many others, with native Christians, now find themselves is causing this government serious concern. Advice received by the state department, from private and official sources emphasize the dangers to which the missionaries, many of them members of the American Presbyterian sect, are exposed. Turkish troops and Kurds are over-running the entire northwestern part of Persia, murdering all male Christians and carrying off women and children.

Secretary of State Bryan today again cabled Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople to make the most urgent representations to the Ottoman government and to demand that full protection be afforded American interests. The chief center of the trouble is Urumiah, where thousands of native Christians have sought refuge in the French and American mission stations, which are the only ones that so far have escaped the vengeance of the mobs. It is reported that the American missionaries have raised the American flag above their compound and demand protection from the native officials. All American diplomatic and consular representatives in Turkey, Russia and Persia have been ordered by the state department to report information reaching them of the situation. Only the most meager official dispatches have reached the department, but Secretary Bryan declared today that he had not the slightest doubt that the press dispatches from Russian sources accurately described the situation.

The Turkish troops who have been operating in northern Persia succeeded more than two months ago in driving the Russians out of the country and since that time, roaming bands of Kurds and Turkish irregulars have ravaged the country.

LAST OF CAMERONS IS CALLED TODAY AT LA CRESCENT

Mrs. Catherine Cameron Richardson Succumbs After Half Century Here; Helped Found City

Mrs. Catherine Cameron Richardson, the last of the family of Camerons who took part in the founding of La Crosse, and one of its early settlers, died at her home in La Crescent this morning.

Mrs. Richardson was born in Deerfield, Oneida county, New York, in 1821, coming to La Crosse in 1854, and moving to La Crescent the following year, where she has since resided.

During the early settlement of this country, her husband, David Richardson, had charge of the Peter Cameron trading post in La Crescent, later known as the "Old Log House."

Waukesha, Wis., March 26.—Fear of a dynamite outrage caused Mrs. Blankenhagen to apply for a writ of habeas corpus to the circuit court here today. She said her husband threatened to put a charge of the explosive under her and blow her up. She was given a decree. The couple were married in Lannon on July 25, 1914.

U. S. SUBMARINE F-4 LOST BENEATH WAVES OF HONOLULU HARBOR

MEN AT BOTTOM IN LOST DIVER

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The last list of the crew of the submarine F-4 lost, it is feared, off Honolulu, was received by the navy department March 7. It showed a complement of one commissioned officer and nineteen enlisted men. The same officer was believed still in command. Among the men it was said there have been some changes. The department cabled to Honolulu for a corrected list.

The March 7 roll was as follows: Lieutenant Alfred Louis Ede, commanding. George T. Ashcroft, gunner's mate, first-class, home Los Angeles. Clark G. Buck, gunner's mate, second-class, home Tacoma, Wash. Ernest Cavin, machinist mate, second-class, home New Orleans. Harley Colwell, chief electrician, home Seattle, Wash.

Walter F. Covington, machinist's mate, first-class, home Fort Worth, Texas. George L. Deeth, electrician, second-class, home Portland, Ore. Alston H. Grindle, chief electrician, home San Francisco. Edwin S. Hill, machinist's mate, first-class, home Etowah, Tenn.

Francis M. Hughson, machinist's mate, first-class, home Los Angeles. James M. Hozgett, electrician, third-class, home Macedonia, Mo. Alfred Jennie, electrician, second-class, home Festus, Mo.

Archie H. Langer, gunner's mate, second-class, home Erie, Pa. Ivan L. Mahan, machinist's mate, first-class, home Lima, Ohio.

William S. Nelson, chief machinist's mate, home Los Angeles. Frank G. Pierard, chief gunner's mate, home San Diego, Cal.

Charles H. Wells, machinist's mate, second-class, home Norfolk, Va. Henry A. Withers, gunner's mate, first-class, home San Diego, Cal.

which chains might be attached to lift her; that she had a splendid submarine signalling apparatus and a marker buoy which attached to the outside and released by a half turn of a wheel within, whirled to the surface and marked its position.

May Be Smashed Open

The first official report, however, dashed the hopes of all but the most optimistic.

Commander Smith, in charge of the first submarine flotilla cabled Secretary Daniels that the month of Honolulu harbor, where the F-4 had disappeared, was covered with fuel oil. The trail craft was operated by the engines. Presence of the oil on the surface indicated that either the water ballast tanks had failed to empty and the oil tanks were dumped to lighten the boat or that the vessel had been smashed open and her oil had flowed out.

The fact that the marker buoy had not been seen and that the submarine signalling apparatus had not been heard was admittedly ominous. Rear Admiral Taylor, aide for construction, said that if the crew were alive it was hard to understand why they had not been located by one or the other signalling systems.

Commander Reports

The navy department received an official report from Honolulu today which caused grave apprehension concerning the fate of submarine F-4. Officials did not, however, entirely give up hope.

The report was from Commander Smith of the first submarine division at Honolulu. It said: "F-4 left tender for submerged run 25th, 9 a. m. Failed return. At surface entrance harbor, thirty fathoms, water covered with fuel oil. Diving and dragging—Smith."

The F-4 was commander by Lieutenant Alfred Louis Ede, who was born at Reno, July 4, 1887, and graduated from Annapolis in 1909.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—For the first time in its history, the United States navy probably has lost a submarine. The F-4 lies under the water at the entrance of Honolulu harbor, according to latest reports received by the navy department. Nineteen men, most of them trained warrant officers, and her commander, Lieutenant Alfred Louis Ede, are imprisoned in the steel hull which it is feared may prove their final tomb.

Early today naval officials were hopeful that the F-4 would be raised, either by the crew at the hand pumps, or by the submarine tender at Honolulu. It was pointed out that the little craft was equipped with hooks to

DAMAGES TO THE STRAIT DEFENSES REPORTED REPAIRED

Four Day Lull in the Bombardment Due to a Gale Gives Turks Chance to Mount New Guns

LONDON, March 26.—The superdreadnought Queen Elizabeth, supported by the battleships Triumph and Agamemnon and the cruiser Cornwall, has entered the Dardanelles and has begun a systematic battering of the Turkish forts at long range, according to Athens dispatches today.

The Anglo-French fleet will not again expose itself to attack at close range, Athens cabled.

At a conference it was determined from four to five warships will enter the strait each day, withdrawing at specified intervals when they will be relieved by other warships.

LONDON, March 26.—The Turks have placed new batteries at the Dardanelles. Taking advantage of a four day lull in the operations of the allied fleet, new guns have been mounted at Erekeuli, six miles inside the strait on the Asiatic shore and the Anglo-French warships are being heavily shelled.

A hot fire came from Fort Kild Bahr and from Namatleh, overlooking the narrow entrance when the warships resumed the bombardment, according to Athens dispatches today. The Turkish batteries at first replied feebly, ceased firing altogether and then broke out violently as a cruiser flotilla moved into closer range. Athens messages expressed the belief that the damage done by the warships on March 18 had been partly repaired by the Turks.

The gale that drove Rear Admiral DeRobeck's squadron out to sea has now entirely ceased.

London newspapers today printed more dispatches from Balkan sources, telling of panicky conditions in Constantinople, but Berlin reported life proceeding as usual in the Turkish capital.

FIND THREE BODIES

MUNCIE, Ind., March 26.—Searchers in the ruins of the burned Delaware county infirmary discovered three unrecognizable human bodies early today. This brings the total bodies recovered to six and leaves six still unaccounted for.

Scour Seas All Night

HONOLULU, March 26.—Apprehension for the safety of the twenty men on the United States submarine F-4, which submerged early yesterday, was allayed today.

PERMANENT EXPOSITIONS

It is enough now to admire the beauty and variety of the great world show at San Francisco and of the fine smaller one at San Diego. We wish heartily that ten times as many people would see them, no matter what the number of admissions may be—for we hardly expect the latter to equal a tenth of the population of North America.

The final economics of the huge modern fair presents, however, a decidedly debatable question. For strangers to the coast—or, for that matter, for those who are by no means strangers to it—the great object of a trip thither will be to see the country rather than to see the fairs. The latter frankly are simply a means of advertising the country.

A better subject never engaged the advertiser's art.

The question is whether the fair is the best method. At Chicago and St.
Louis and Paris there was a good deal of debate and difference of opinion as to that, when the final returns had been counted up. It may be the same at San Francisco; or this latest and greatest enterprise in that line may give ground for a rather conclusive answer as to whether or not it pays to advertise in that way.

Meantime sixty-odd million dollars

VINDICATED

The report of the state board of public affairs, upon which those who would turn the Wisconsin clock back have placed an anticipatory dependence, justifies the past financial policy of the state toward the university.
Its findings are summarized as follows:

The university is not receiving an undue proportion of the money expended by the state for education.

The university is one-third self-supporting since 1909.398 of its $2-805,806 expenditure in 1914 came from the federal government, students' fees, dormitory receipts and sources other than taxes.

Expenditures of the university are not a cause for alarm. The university has acquired practically all the land that will be needed for a generation or more, and when buildings now asked are completed, the most expensive needs for the next several years will have been met.

Work done at the university, in accordance with the state law, additional to student instruction, is what makes the proportionate expense of the institution greater than of the common and secondary schools.

Of course it is expected that the administration will fly in the face of this report. The empty handed search for reasonable retrenchments of a substantial character has created a desperate situation in which dollars will be lopped off without serious regard for justification. But will such expedients stand the test of public sentiment?

"Better—" For the first time she turned and looked him full in the face, and he broke off blankly.
Either she was young, or she had conserved in those two clear, steady eyes all that is youthful and all that is splendid in youth. She was smiling, and inexplicably, her frank pleasure seemed to goad him out of his heavy indifference. He sprang up with a rough laugh. "Why, you're actually not, bad-looking in your queer way," he stammered, "and I called you a 'good old soul'! Merciful heavens, what a fool I am to care about anything—as though any-thing mattered—here—"

She must have seen the insane devil in his white drawn face, but she did not flinch. She stood there, kettle in hand, and looked at him.
"Sit down. I would like to spare you the trouble of coming up the stairs to apologize when you have recovered."

For a long second they stared at each other in challenging silence.
Had she wavered, the rekindled fury in him must have gained the upper hand. But her composed self-confidence was absolute. He sank back groaning.
"I am a cur," he said under his breath.

"Oh, no, you're not a cur. You are or were drunk. It's not a nice word, but I'm afraid I'm too busy to think out pretty ways of expressing myself. There's your tea."

She placed the cup fearlessly at his elbow. "Please drink it at once."

He obeyed.
"You're quite right," he said simply. "I was drunk. I wouldn't like you to believe that it's for the first time."

"I know."
"Do you?"

"Habit is obvious." She leaned against the arm of the sofa and studied him with folded arms and perplexed brows. "I wonder why there was a first time. Forgive me, but looking after your tea, I can't be a charity French lesson with an old professor who can only find time for me between seven and eight. You see, I am bent on self-improvement
—consequently I feel justified in replenishing my store of wisdom at your expense. People who drink are either stupid or—"

"Or what?"

"—they want to forget things."

He smiled a little.
"Isn't that asking?"

"Yes, it is, but I don't expect an answer. I am just wondering. Now lie down. Your head is aching furiously I have no doubt, and probably you have work in front of you like other mortals. I have some eau-de-Cologne upstairs. Don't fear. I am going to fetch it."

"Wait a minute. Won't you tell me your name?"

She put her head a little on one side.
"Gabrielle—Gabrielle Smith. Not very euphonious, is it? But one's baptism is the first occasion where the great law concerning the sins of the fathers comes into operation.

"And won't you tell what you are?"

"That's a large question. I wish I knew myself. Officially I am anything from a traveling companion to an unsatisfactory nursemaid, in either case out of job. Is that what you meant?"

He closed his eyes wearily.
"I don't know—you have been awfully decent—it all seems rather like a grotesque, gigantic dream from which I can't wake up." His voice died away.

Some Interesting Facts About Kidney Troubles

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.
The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot readily be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease, which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in 1913, in the state of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.
The mild and healing influence of this preparation, in most cases, is soon realized, according to sworn statements and verified testimony of those who have used the remedy.
If you feel that your kidneys require attention, and wish a sample bottle, write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper, enclose ten cents and they will gladly forward it to you by Parcel valuable beverage.

It is invigorating and refreshing, and is especially beneficial to the stomach and nerves.

Maté has great sustaining power, but does not irritate. Its effect is soothing and quieting, with no deleterious consequences of any kind.

Maté is healthful and wholesome. It is good at every meal every day the year 'round. It is delicious hot or iced.

Woodley's Maté is inexpensive and easy to prepare. A 50-cent package will make 100 to 200 cups. Grocers everywhere sell Woodley's Maté.

Maté is growing in general demand every day. Every one who becomes accustomed to this delicious drink is generous in its praise.
Advertising is doing a little to increase the demand, but the great increase comes from the users of Maté telling their friends about this South American drink. If you have not done so, tell your friends this splendidly satisfying beverage.

The Great Law Comes Into Force

When Richard Farquhar awoke from his heavy sleep it was broad daylight. The fog had lifted and a pale winter sunshine poured in on to the plush furniture and revealed it in all its native hideousness. He looked at everything in turn, like a man trying to assure himself of his own reality. Then he got up and rang the bell. By the time his summons was answered he had smoothed his hair into order and slipped a dressing-gown over the all-betraying evening clothes. Mrs. Ferrier eyed him with large and comfortable satisfaction.

"Did you ring, sir?"

"Yes. I want my breakfast, please. And I have a confession to make. I didn't get home—till six this morning, and—and I was in a corresponding condition. A—a young lady was kind enough to help me upstairs and lend me these things. I should be glad if they were returned with my thanks and compliments."

Mrs. Ferrier picked up the rug.
Her mouth was pursed.

"Why—it's Miss Smith's," she said severely. "I've a good mind to give notice."

"Because she helped me up-stairs?
Good heavens, I suppose you'd throw stones at the good Samaritan. Don't be a fool, Mrs. Ferrier. If she goes I go, and there's an end of the matter. You can go now. In all probability I shall be in town again tonight. No—leave these things there;
I'll give them back to her myself."

He dressed, and by midday was on duty. Those who had witnessed the scene on the preceding night glance-ed at him curiously, but his face betrayed nothing—neither weariness nor the self-disgust usual on such occasions. They saw he had changed, but the change was indefinable.

They saw also that, whatever else had happened, he had not apologized to Sower. The two men exchanged the curtest and most perfunctory greeting.

By seven o'clock he stood again in the Omney's library. This time alone. The emptiness of the room seemed to reveal something that he had never noticed before—a curious, chilling lack of sincerity. The tapestries, the old oak furniture unvelled themselves as relics deluded by a blind unfeeling power to a place that was not theirs. Their very genuineness seemed to stand in question.
Farquhar turned from the contemplation of their sordidness to the door. It had opened quietly, and Sylvia Omney stood on the threshold waiting. She was simply dressed in a dark clinging material which set off more perfectly the fair sweetness of her features.

"You wanted to speak to me, Richard?"

"Yes; it was good of you to come.
I know I hadn't the right to ask. I behaved vilely last night."

She looked up into his face with an innocent wonder.

"Did you? I didn't see it. I only thought that you were just as I had always believed you to be—generous and chivalrous and loyal."

"Yes, but afterward. It isn't chivalry only to act decently to a woman's face. Afterward I let my love for you turn me into a mad beast. It was an insult to your goodness. And for that I want you to forgive me."

"Why, then, I forgive you, Richard."

He bent his head.
"Thank you. And I have something more to say."

TRAMPS ARRESTED AT SPARTA FOR THEFT OF COPPER

Railroad Signals Fail to Respond and Seven Are Under Lock and Key Charged with Theft

SPARTA, Wis., March 26.—(Special.)—Seven hoboes are under arrest here charged with stealing 1,200 pounds of copper wire. Sheriff Geo. Boss found out why the electric signals on the Northwestern and the Milwaukee railroad have failed to work for several days.

Four of the men gave their names as Kelly, O'Neil, Downs and Dean.

For several days copper wires which form the connection between electric signals on the railroads, and current conductors on the tracks were missing. Each night more would be gone and an investigation was started by the sheriff.

The first clue to the robberies was found when it was learned that clocks were being cashed on junk dealers here. Sheriff Boss found two suspicious characters loitering in the vicinity of the Milwaukee station yesterday afternoon. Information which they gave finally led to the arrest of the other five.

Kelly, O'Neil and Downs were seen carrying large bundles into the junk shop and were arrested after an exciting chase down the railroad tracks. O'Neil has only one leg, but he fought furiously. His companion drew a long jack knife on Sheriff Boss but was captured.

Last night two others tried to dispose of copper wire and were arrested. Sheriff Boss is of the belief the other tramps are engaged in the thieving and all railroad yards and outgoing trains are being watched.

PROHIBS AND WETS CLASH IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, March 26.—Prohibition will be made an issue in the mayoralty campaign, Arthur Burrage Farwell of the Dry Chicago Federation announced today. Representatives of the federation and the Chicago Law Enforcement league will call upon Democratic Nominee Robert M. Switzer and Republican Nominee William Hale Thompson, asking their views on the "dry" issue and if they will stand for a strict enforcement of the prohibition law if the city votes dry April 3, 1916.

"What we wish to establish is whether or not the successful candidate will promise prohibition if the drys win," Farwell said. "We want both of them to pledge us they will enforce the law if it carries so we can be fortified against the argument that prohibition does not prohibit."

COST OF FEEDING STARVING BELGIANS

LIVERPOOL, March 15.—(By Mail to New York.)—"It will cost the United States $150,000,000 annually to feed the Belgians if this is to be a war of years," declared the members of the United States Central Belgian Relief commission here today en route to inspect conditions in King Albert's country. "Our committee is spending $3,000,000 a month now to feed 1,500,000 Belgians," said E. G. Lawrence, of New York City today. "Sixty vessels are chartered to carry food. Forty-five are now plying between the United States and Rotterdam but the number of dependent Belgians is increasing every day and those we are feeding are reported to be on half-rations."

Lawrence together with Miss Josephine Roche, a suffragist of Denver, will visit all industrial and agricultural centers of Belgium to report to the Belgian Relief committee in the United States. Lawrence declared today the trip will furnish information for relief to charges in the United States that there is greater need for food and clothing among the unemployed and poor in America.

AEROPLANE DROPS BOMBS

SOUTHAMPTON, via London, March 26.—The British steamship Pandion, which arrived here today from Rotterdam, reports that yesterday in the vicinity of the North Hinder Lightship she was twice attacked by a German aeroplane.

Seven bombs were dropped by the aircraft, some of which fell very close to the Pandion, but the steamship escaped damage.

Help the Stomach Digest Your Food

When the stomach fails to digest and distribute that which is eaten, the bowels become clogged with a mass of waste and refuse that ferments and generates poisons that are gradually forced into the blood, causing distress and often serious illness.

Most people naturally object to the drastic cathartic and purgative agents that shock the system. A mild, gentle laxative, positive in its effect and that will quickly relieve constipation is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. It does not grip or cramp, but acts easily and pleasantly and is therefore the most satisfactory remedy for children, women and elderly persons. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

All Blood Disorders Quickly Driven Away

Strength, Power, Accomplishment are all Typified in S. S. S.

Some blood disorders become deeply rooted in the glands and tissues, and the mistake is made of resorting to drastic drugs. These only aggravate by causing other and worse troubles. A host of people know this to be true. They know from painful experience.

To get right down into where the blood is vitiated requires S. S. S., the greatest blood purifier ever discovered.

This remarkable remedy contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutriment and the medicinal elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food.

Not only this, but if from the presence of some disturbing poison there is a local or general interference of nutrition to cause boils, carbuncles, abscesses and hundred troubles, S. S. S. so directs the local cells that this poison is rejected and eliminated from their presence. Then, too, S. S. S. has such specific stimulation on these local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and a proper relative assistance to each other.

In a very brief time S. S. S. has the reconstructive process so under control that remarkable changes are observed. All eruptive places heal, mysterious pains and aches have disappeared, and from head to foot there is a conscious sensation of renewed health.

From the fact that S. S. S. is purely a botanical preparation, it is accepted by the weakest stomach and has great tonic influence. Not one drop of drugs or minerals is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and insist upon having it. And if you desire skilful advice upon any matter concerning the blood and skin write to The Swift Specific Co., 205 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Do not allow some zealous clerk to lull you into the atmosphere of eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. Beware of all counterfeits.

COAL CASES IN ALASKA CANCELLED

WASHINGTON, March 26. — The United States land office received from the register at Juneau yesterday word that the Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal companies, the Youngstown Consolidated Coal companies and the Consolidated Coal company of Cleveland's cases in the Controller Bay region, Alaska, had been cancelled. It is alleged the companies' forty-seven claims were obtained by fraud.

BIRMINGHAM HAS SOME GOOD MATERIAL BUT HIS BALL CLUB REMAINS UNSETTLED

The Cleveland Indians still remain a rather unsettled ball club. It still is evident that Joe Birmingham has some good material, but it is doubtful if he can get it into shape before the opening of the season's campaign. Two of his young pitchers who are showing up well in spring training are Sam Jones and Rip Hagerman.

MAY DAY MASQUE FOR NORMAL SCHOOL IS STUDENTS' PLAN

Myrick Park Suggested as Scene for Novel Attraction Arranged by Howard Jones.

Work at the normal school on the new masque "Marsh and River," to be given in place of the regular May day fete this year, is well under way. The author, Howard Jones, is at present visiting his mother here and while in the city is assisting D. O. Coate, head of the English department at the normal, in casting the masque and selecting the site.

Previously the normal school has supported an annual May day fete which was given commencement week. This year Mr. Jones has composed something entirely new in this line of entertainment expressly for the normal school students graduating in June.

Howard Jones is a resident of the city and a graduate of the normal school class of 1910. Later he earned a Bachelor of Arts degree at the state university, and a Master of Arts degree in the University of Chicago. While in the local school he won many high honors as school orator and otherwise. Some time ago Mr. Jones wrote this beautiful masque and gave it to the La Crosse school.

The work of selecting students for the cast is the main task of the promoters at present. Several trips have been made to the region about Myrick park with hopes of settling the spot for the performance. The new plan is something entirely new for the students. The work at present is under the supervision of D. O. Coate.

PROSPECTS POINT TO RECORD CROP

CHICAGO, March 26.—Every present indication points to all wheat crop records in the history of the country being broken for 1915. However, according to B. W. Snow, chief statistical expert for Bartlett, Frazier & Co., it would be mere guesswork now to attempt to estimate the 1915 grain crop in bushels. There is possibility, he declared today, for a crop of 900,000,000 bushels, but because no one can tell what the weather actually will be until the crop is cut, it would not be surprising if the yield ran as low as 500,000,000 bushels.

Last year's total winter and spring crop was 891,000,000 bushels. "With conditions similar to conditions last year," said Snow, "the 1915 crop should break all records. Last year 36,000,000 acres yielded a winter crop of 685,000,000 bushels. This year the winter acreage is between 41,000,000 and 42,000,000.

So far weather conditions have been exceedingly encouraging for bumper crops. This weather encouragement has been particularly apparent in Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska, the 'dry' states. So far there has been every bit as much moisture in those states this year as there was in 1914."

Statistician Snow explained that it is even more a matter of haphazard guesswork to forecast estimates of other grains than of wheat. Oats, he explained, are just being seeded, the delay having been caused by too much rain west of the Mississippi. The noted grain expert refused to predict possibilities of higher or lower wheat and flower prices except to say that he believed the old law of supply and demand together with lessons learned from war conditions would hold.

BOY IS PAROLED HEAD IS EXAMINED

FREEPORT, Ill., March 26.—After being arrested a dozen or more times for various misdemeanors, Oscar Rath, 20 years old, yesterday accepted Judge E. O. Hurd's offer of parole, provided he submit to a surgical operation upon his head. Surgeons say they believe pressure of a bone on his brain has caused criminal tendencies and that removal of part of the skull will produce a cure.

Much in Brief Dream.

It is written of one of the most eminent of Englishmen who was dictating to his amanuensis chapters of an important work, and while so engaged was overcome by sleep. He dreamed of matters of great moment, of diplomatic conferences, exhausting many days and weeks. Becoming awake he chided his secretary for permitting him to sleep, and was astounded to be told by the scrivener that he had not finished the last sentence that had been dictated. Volumes have been written crammed with such experiences in infinite variety.

Duty Ever Present.

A sense of duty pursues us ever. It is omnipresent, like the Deity. If we take to ourselves the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea, duty performed or duty violated is still with us, for our happiness or our misery.—Daniel Webster.

Knockers. Sometimes it's an opportunity that knocks. Oftener it's only a man.

ALLEGED SWINDLER TAKEN TO NEW YORK

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 26.—George M. Rogers, alleged by federal postal authorities to have gotten $100,000 through a mail swindler in the last two years, was taken to New York yesterday to stand trial. Local officials were informed that Rogers was indicted on a similar charge in Philadelphia and 'jumped' a $2,500 bail bond. He also is said to have been under indictment in Boston.

Lorlys E. Rogers as He Looks Today

This is the first photograph that has been taken of Lorlys Elton Rogers, the New York lawyer, since the strange story of his marriage came out in connection with the poisoning of two babies by Mrs. Walters. She is about to be tried for their death, and the photograph was taken when he appeared in connection with her arraignment. Rogers was married many years ago to a southern woman, who later got a divorce from him. He then married the sister of one of the best known professors at Columbia university. Later he established relations with Mrs. Walters, and two children were born to them. Believing he was about to leave her, she became despondent and poisoned the children and herself. The little ones died, but she recovered.

FAMOUS U-29 IS REPORTED LOST

British Admiralty Says There Is Reason to Believe German Raider Is Sunk

WAS TERROR OF THE ISLAND SEAS

Vessel Which Sank Six British Ships in 36 Hours Commanded by Noted Naval Hero

LONDON, March 26.—The admiralty announces there is good reason to believe the submarine U-29 has been sunk with all hands.

Was Terror of Britons

NEW YORK, March 26.—If, as believed by the British admiralty, the U-29 has been sunk with all hands, the English are rid of the most destructive of all the German undersea horrors which have been preying on their shipping. On March 11 and 12, within thirty-six hours, the U-29 sank no less than six ships off the Solili islands.

According to a letter from the captain of the steamer Headlands, one of the ships sunk, published by the London Daily Mail on March 13, the U-29 was commanded by Captain O. Weddigen, who won fame and the iron cross on the U-8 earlier in the war by sinking the British cruisers Hogue, Aboukir, Cressy and Hawke.

Hero Pays War's Penalty

Assuming this statement to be true, the loss of the U-29 "with all hands" means that Germany's most famous undersea hero has paid the penalty of his daring.

The U-29 was one of the largest, newest and best equipped of all the German submarines. She was said even to have a wireless outfit. She differed from most of the others in having a high bow which enabled her to run at great speed on the surface.

Another Steamer Lost

LONDON, March 26.—The British steamer Delmira has been torpedoed by a German submarine it was announced today.

The Delmira is a 3,459 ton steamer, owned by the British and Chilean Steamship company. Her port of registry is Liverpool.

MAYO SEPARATION PAPERS ARE FILED

SCRANTON, Pa., March 26.—Charging willful and malicious desertion, the long expected divorce suit of Mrs. Florence Weeks Mayo, of this city against Virginius J. Mayo, manufacturer of New Haven, Conn., was filed here yesterday. The papers represent that Florence W. Mayo and Virginius J. Mayo have been man and wife since May 14, 1890. In December, 1897, Mayo is charged with willfully and maliciously deserting his wife.

World's Oldest University.

Founded in the year 972 A. D., the Mohammedan university of El-Azhar ("the Luminous") is the oldest existing university in the world. It is the Oxford of the Moslem world, and is at present attended by upward of 10,000 students of all ages, and from every eastern country, from the Caucasus to Somaliland. Board and lodging is free. The teaching consists chiefly of Mohammedan dogma, which is laboriously committed to memory from sacred books.

LAST RITES SAID FOR MRS. WESTON

Over a casket buried in flowers, last rites for Mrs. Nell Thayer Weston, wife of Dr. Frank R. Weston, were said yesterday afternoon at the Congregational church. The auditorium was filled with sorrowing friends and relatives of Mrs. Weston. The services were held at two o'clock. Before the public service in the church, there was a short service at the Weston home, 115 North Tenth street. Burial took place in the Weston family lot in Oak Grove cemetery.

The pall-bearers, all old friends of Mrs. Weston's, were A. N. Moore, J. W. Dalton, Thomas Aiken, Frank E. Pooler, E. S. Hebbard and Leonard Kleeber.

Many relatives of Dr. and Mrs. Weston, called here by the illness and death of the latter, attended the funeral. Among them were Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Weston, Mason City, Ia.;

LA FOLLETTE IS OPTIMISTIC FOR NATION'S FUTURE

LARGE AUDIENCE GREET SENATOR

Wisconsin Leader Sways Well Filled House in Lecture at Winona Last Evening

WINONA, Minn., March 26.—Robert M. La Follette, famous Wisconsin senator, believes that monopoly and combination in restraint of trade, while they have been firmly entrenched in even the most remote parts of the nation, are not yet so powerful that they can successfully defy the efforts of "the higher surgical statesmanship." He sounded a warning in his lecture before an audience at the Winona opera house last night. "We must take care," he said with a cautioning finger moving slowly, "that in this democracy the people love their country alike." He had been discussing the tendency toward the increase in cost of living and the desperate straits of the residents of some sections.

Last in Lecture Course

Mr. La Follette offered the final number of the Teachers' Joint Lecture course. The opera house was well filled with the record house of the series.

Mr. La Follette's contention was that with the progress of the country and the development of genius, the cost of living should have been continually decreased instead of having advanced. "There is something wrong," said he, "and you all know it—everybody knows it. No longer is it possible to tell about our great country, our splendid democracy, in some sections of the country. You people here, I understand, are rich; you do not feel it. But, let me tell you, in some portions of the country they are not so fortunate. They will no longer hear to some of the things it was possible to tell them about our country some years ago. It is true that their wages have increased but not commensurate with the increase in the cost of living. And here lies a danger. We must take care that all men love their country alike."

Sherman Law Throttled

The Sherman anti-trust law was applauded by Senator La Follette but, he said, "it never was given a chance for its life." And he blamed the presidents of the United States for that condition. He likened the growth of the monopolies to the growth of a cancer. The hatchet and the club no longer will suffice in treating with this problem, he said. It calls for "the highest surgical statesmanship," said he.

In the present administration the proper step has been taken, he said, and he gave President Wilson credit for bringing into existence the national trade commission, composed of five men whose duty it is to investigate all business. The entire government is behind this group of men, said he. He believed it is possible to accomplish tremendous good and to solve much of the problem through this commission.

arbitrate and persuade them not to go to work. Hemleben and the others combined, he said. Butterm first struck Hemleben, Hemleben claims, and he was stunned by a blow on the top of the head.

The union men tell a different story. John D. Chubbuck, national organizer, who is handling the situation for the union here, said the assault was started by the non-union men hurling stones at the pickets and attacking them with clubs.

Mr. Chubbuck's Statement.

He said: "John Rae and I have made an investigation, and have prevailed upon the workers to be peaceful, create no violence, or destroy no property, or interfere with the mills in any way. We are always cautioning the workers that peaceful ways are the best, as it keeps public opinion with us."

"With reference to the trouble this morning, after calling those workers who were involved and questioning them as to what caused the trouble, we find that eight of the locked out workers who had been on picket duty were leaving their shift and coming down town.

"When they met between 25 and 30 of the workers now employed in the mills, who with a half block of them, the non-union men began to pick up stones and gathered close together. When they came to the locked out workers they began to shove them off the railroad right of way, one striking at one of the locked out men with his dinner pail.

Deplores the Incident

"I certainly deplore the fact that this trouble occurred."

"We will insist that the police picket this railroad and all other roads leading to that mill and keep those working in the mills out of trouble as well as the locked out ones."

"The police over at the mills have been prevailing upon the workers to go back. They have shown a more friendly spirit toward the mill owners than to the workers. We have said nothing about this sentiment until this morning, when we brought it to the attention of the chief of police who declared the patrolmen have no right to show any partiality and are placed there only to do justice to both sides."

"The police immediately notified the peaceful pickets that they could no longer picket approaches to the mill and drove them from the road."

Insist on Picket Right

"We insist upon our rights of peaceful picketing. We demand that our own workers keep within the law."

"It has been reported by several of the pickets on the road this morning that one of the policemen had made the statement that from now on those working at the mills would arm themselves and defend themselves in any way as far as they were concerned."

"If this system will be tolerated it will be impossible for us to keep peace among the locked out workers or prevent trouble."

Mr. Funk's Statement

Albert P. Funk, manager of the rubber mills, related the incident as told him by his employees. The story was that a party of fifteen to twenty mill workers were approaching the works by way of the railroad tracks when they were surprised by a party of the locked out men, in about equal numbers, who sprang from cover of a pile of ties, brandishing clubs and rocks. These men, they said, set upon them, whereupon the workers fled. They said upon the appearance of the police their assailants scattered over the marsh.

In verification of this story Mr. Funk said two employees who reported a few moments earlier at the mill had seen the men hiding behind the ties, armed with clubs and stones. They will so testify.

SUBSTITUTE ACT FEATURES BILL

Frances Nordstrom and Co. from Orpheum Time Present Laughable Sketch

A substitute act, hastily engaged at the last minute when Date Austin "fell down" on his contract to appear here, is the hit of the bill at the Majestic this week. It is small and wonderful, for Frances Nordstrom and company, the substitute, present a sketch that is an Orpheum time feature and is now on its way to San Francisco for an engagement at the big exposition. It is an extremely humorous affair, presenting unique by the case of a woman angry at her husband because of the lack of excitement in her life. She gets excitement, plenty of it, in a dream. The sketch made a tremendous hit last night.

Siber and North, the former an accomplished comedian of restrained but effective talent, and the latter a very handsome girl, stopped the show, with their offering of "A Bashful Man and a Maid." It was a delightful nonsense, and well supported by a brace of good songs.

The Saxo Sextette, a feature attraction, played yesterday, one of the very best of the season, with their troupe, was seriously ill with tonsillitis. The sextette cancelled the remainder of the engagement and returned to Chicago, where Marqueth has his home. Walter S. Meiklejohn, the well-known local prestidigitator, will fill their place on the bill, with some of his remarkable feats of magic.

The rest of the week's offering is of high class. Bryan Lee and Mary Cranston, two delightful Irish people, have an Irish singing and dancing act away above par. Lee sings in a beautiful lyric tenor, and Miss Cranston not only sings but plays the violin, and also does an Irish jig that was a winner last night.

Expert juggling, accompanied by a running fire of comment on local news events, the audience, the performers and the war, marked the exceptional act of Campbell and Brady. Miss Brady also displayed some clever soft-shoe dancing. The act was especially notable for the left club-juggling presented.

RESERVOIR SUIT OF THOS. WOOLEY IN CIRCUIT COURT

Judge C. A. Fowler Asked to Judge in Action for $5,000 Against the City

Testimony in the $5,000 suit instituted by Contractor Thomas Wooley against the city of La Crosse is still being heard before Judge Chester A. Fowler in circuit court today.

Attorney Frank Winter, representing the plaintiff, moved that the court sit as an arbitrary judiciary to decide whether to continue with the testimony or place the case in the hands of a referee.

Wooley is asking for the recovery of $5,000 for excavation work he said was done for the city in the construction of the Granddun reservoir.

Attorneys for the city of La Crosse offered testimony that part of the work was done without authorization by the city.

MINNESOTA MEN WHO DIDN'T BID NOTIFIED TOO LATE

MINNESOTA SHIPMENTS "O. K."

Federal Embargo on Trans-Mississippi Cargoes Lifted; Prize Herd Is Sacrificed

Acting upon a message which declared federal authorities would permit the shipment of cattle into districts quarantined from foot and mouth epidemic, one buyer took advantage of abnormally low prices to buy a number of full bred Guernseys at the West Salem Guernsey Breeders' association sale yesterday. The fancy stock sold at a figure much lower than is customary, owing to the fact that foreign breeders were afraid to buy because shipment out of the state was doubtful.

The man with the message declared he had information that shipments would be allowed upon ten days notice, from districts not infected with the disease. This could not be verified in La Crosse today, and State Veterinarian O. S. Blinn, over the long distance telephone, declared that shipments could not be made except with the permission of the state veterinary officer of the state into which they were to be shipped. He said that as far as he knew there had been no change in the federal regulations.

Salem Welcomes Cattlemen

West Salem put on her best clothes and the village assumed a gala day atmosphere to welcome the 300 people coming from far and near. Ten states were represented among the 600 men and women who found seats and standing room in the spacious sale pavilion.

Although foreign buyers were not in prominence, those who came were there to buy Guernseys and the bidders had keen competition until every animal was disposed of.

La Crosse county stood ahead of the world in more than one thing yesterday. It showed the world a herd of eighty Guernseys that cannot be equalled even on the island of Guernsey, where the breed originally came from.

First, as it is in the production of butter. La Crosse county has now shown why she is and proved for all time the value of a single strain. Many in this vicinity have maintained that their "scrub" cattle can produce the same amount of butter for as the recognized breeds, but their receipts, as shown by the West Salem, and other creameries in this vicinity, show a far less percentage of the money-making element at the end of the year.

Every corner of the county was represented and the association members, among the pioneers in the "single strain" idea were more hopeful that the farmers and the cream specialists would soon come to a greater realization of the benefits of pure bred stock.

Approximately $20,000 was realized by the members, who are H. W. Griswold, A. L. Stubbs, B. L. Rundell, Harry Jewett, C. D. Griswold and M. B. Lee. While last year's sale was not as well attended as that of yesterday, the animals brought much higher prices. Authorized mail order bids from breeders in the state of Ohio with limits of $400 each could only be raised to slightly over $300. Bulls with ancestors who were many times champions and whose pedigrees are the best in the world, sold for $400 and in some instances could not bring a bid. This was anticipated, through the knowledge that foreign buyers would not be in attendance, and few bulls were placed on sale. "Gay's May King," recognized all over the country, sold for $425.

Guernsey heifers and cows, between the ages of a few months and three years held the attention of the buyers. The majority of these were bred by the West Salem association members although many were imported from the island of Guernsey. All were registered cattle, and many were "American registered" while each "critter" contained the rarest of the Guernsey blood of the world.

Auctioneer Knocks "Scrubs"

In commenting upon pure bred stock, J. L. McIlraith, Grinnell, Ia., auctioneer, urged those buying to purchase at least one pure strain animal for their herds.

"If you can't afford more than one," he said, "you will be raising the efficiency of your stock just that much. If I had my way about the stock farms of this country, I would do away with fifty per cent of the stock and keep nothing but a single strain. In a few years to come, you will learn to appreciate what this sale of pure breeds means."

Famous Cows Represented

The direct descendants of the famous "Bob Rilla," formerly the world's champion butter fat cow, and "Holden Fourth," the imported Guernsey bull owned by A. I. Stubbs, naturally brought the highest prices, although other animals who had themselves made records in the production of butter or whose ancestors had been the pick of the world's Guernsey cattle were in plenty.

Cattle Dressed Up

The cattle had been prepared to show off their qualities to the best advantage. Both from the standpoint of the cattle expert and the prize cattle, the sight of the world's purest Guernseys paraded by their keepers on the sawdust platform was inspiring. The West Salem cattle breeders whose stock was on sale gave the pedigrees of each animal, and showed in every instance blood which at one time or another had created sensations at state or world's fairs.

Several of the animals sold yesterday will be exhibited at the Panama Exposition this summer. Fifty per cent of the stock will take first or second prizes at many of the state fairs this fall.

Buy Unborn Calves

Absence of early reports from the rescue flotilla outside the harbor increased fears that the men aboard the missing submarine have lost their lives. The naval tug Navajo and several launches spent the night in their search, dragging a large circle with the spot two miles outside the harbor, where the F-4 went down, as the center. None of these vessels had reported early today.

Rear Admiral Charles B. Moore, commanding the Honolulu naval station, at midnight ordered every available vessel out for the search. Admiral Moore said there was some hope that, even if yet submerged, the men on the submarine might still be saved. The oxygen tanks had air, he said, for twenty-four hours submersion and, in addition, emergency tanks sufficient for several days more, unless some accident had burst the tanks. The F-4 submerged at 9:15 yesterday morning.

At Practice Maneuvers

The vessel was engaged in practice maneuvers with the W-1, P-2 and F-3. She is of the Holland type, built by the Seattle Construction & Drydock company at a cost of $500,000 in 1912 and is 160 feet long.

BROGAN HELD BUT MAY BE LIBERATED

"Jack" Brogan is held in Park Falls for desertion. Arrived at that city with his attorney, Stanley Gordon, the La Crosse night watchman found that he had another wife, and that his La Crosse marriage was technically illegal.

Brogan's story, which sounds plausible in view of his having openly married here, but 150 miles away, without changing his name, is that some years ago his wife started action for divorce, and that later she wrote him saying the divorce had been granted. Brogan promised to produce this letter. Later he had heard that the woman was dead.

Brogan expects to raise the money necessary to defray the cost of proceedings, and it is expected that his Park Falls wife will sue for a divorce. His release is expected. Attorney Gordon returns to Park Falls tonight.

Mother Brogan is mother superior of the province of New York. The special car was attached to the Pioneer Limited of the Milwaukee road.

ance and downcast countenances).

board another time! A 10-cent package of SKITCH makes the biggest, dirtiest wash that ever was just as easy as doing a few dishes.
SKITCH won't hurt the flimsiest fabrics. You could even eat SKITCH and it wouldn't hurt your stomach.
You just use three teaspoons of SKITCH to a boilerful of clothes and then you can read your paper or do up the housework while SKITCH just naturally skitches the dirt out of your clothes clean as a new penny.
It costs less than 2 cents for a wash and saves all the soap you now use in rubbing. Get a 10-cent pack-suspended for six hours. He

SHAW OPENS SUIT AGAINST DARLING

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 26.— Trial of Robert Marsden, Shaw's sensational suit against Richard S.
Darling, wealthy clubman, accused stealing Shaw's beautiful wife, opened yesterday. Shaw's attorneys announced they would show that Mrs.
Shaw several times visited Darling's room late at night, using these passwords: "Dickie, dear, let me in."
John Foley, bellboy in the Gedney Arms hotel, was the first witness. He swore that one night he was called to Mrs. Shaw's room with some high-balls and found Darling there, partially dressed. Mrs. Shaw, he said, had a top-coat thrown over one shoulder of her nightdress.

laid on the public park to enable me to listen to the singing of the birds."

Week's Offering In Movieland As Seen in La Crosse

By N. D. Tera

"I have come to the conclusion that photoplays are the greatest power for good in the world. The results they can accomplish are even greater than the influence of the church. This is because almost the entire public attends photoplays houses, while the number who attend the various churches is limited. Motion pictures are an integral part of the lives of vast throngs."

—Francis X. Bushman, who will appear in "Thirteen Down," at the Casino next week.
Bushman, one of the favorites of moving picture audiences here, is "putting it strong," but he is undoubtedly honest in his belief that moving pictures are the greatest power for good. He accomplishes just one thing—Bushman makes the moving picture audience the jury—to decide on the class of plays,

whether they be for good tendencies or bad.
The producer and the theater manager are just natural human beings who will show just the sort of films which their audiences like, and it is entirely up to the audience what kind of environment they are to live under while seeking recreation in "film land."
Burford Back with "Hunches"
Keeping his promise, Harry H.
Burford, manager of the Bijou and Lyric theaters will arrive in La Crosse the latter part of this week from the land of moving pictures,
to decide on the class of plays,

has a brand new set of "ideas" having to do with new features for his houses here which he will submit to the public in The Tribune "Movieland" column next week. Burford has been touring the west with the DeLuxe Film special, a special train carrying moving picture producers and big theater managers from all over the country to the San Francisco exposition.
Good Pictures During Week
"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" with Beatriz Michelana: "It's No Laughing Matter," featuring the comedian of comedians, Maclay Arbuckle, and Marie Doro in "The Morals of Marcus." were the best of the week, while shorter programs were of excellent character.

Best Pictures Coming
Among the best pictures to be seen at La-Crosse theaters the remainder of this week and the week to come are the most popular releases of the last few months and films which have had rigid try-outs in other cities.
Edith Taliaferro, an actress known far and wide is playing today and tomorrow at the Bijou in "Young Romance." "Mother's Roses," with Mrs.
Mary Maurice is the attraction now at the Casino. Other coming attrac-

FAMOUS FRIGATE WILL BE BURNED

The Independence, Oldest
American Man-of-War
Afloat, Is Sold
Privately

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.—
The Independence, oldest American man-of-war afloat, will be burned for the sake of the copper in her hull and other metal fixings.

This decision has been reached by Captain John H. Rinder of Berkeley, who recently purchased the vessel at auction for $3,515.

The Independence is the last of the war frigates built for the war of 1812 with England and is one of the most famous ships the American navy boasted. Her keel was laid down in 1812. In her day she was to the United States navy what the most modern superdreadnaughts is to the navies of today. She was the greatest fighting vessel float, boasting three decks and 74 guns.

In 1848 she was sent around the Horn and for many years was used as a patrol ship on the Pacific coast.
Her headquarters were at Mare Island and she was in active service until 1863, when she was officially declared obsolete and assigned to the Mare Island navy yard as a training ship.

Last year the navy department decided to sell the old vessel, in spite of the protests by patriotic societies in all parts of the country. Captain Rinder bought the frigate, intending to exhibit her at the Panama-Pacific exposition, but the plans fell through.

tions at the Casino are "In the Hands of the Jury," and "Thirteen Down."
The Bijou offers Marquette Clark in
"The Goose Girl," "After Five," with Edward Ables, and "Mistress Nell," played by Mary Pickford.

"Runaway June" Growing Interest in the greatest serial story ever published in the movies, "Runaway June," is growing in La Crosse.
The fourth installment shown at the Casino yesterday attracted the large-est crowds since its appearance here, and "June" is a hit. The story of the runaway bride, who left her husband on their honeymoon because she would not depend upon him for support is distinct from other picture serials. The producers of "Runaway June" are following a new course of action, and are making the picture as it is being shown. As the winter styles change into spring styles, the June company change their costumes with them. The company is now in Bermuda, furnishing a new air to the play. It will return to this country shortly.

"The Stain," a six part dramatization of the novel by Forrest Halsey held attention at the Bijou yesterday.

"Young Romance"
Some of the most exciting episodes in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "Young Romance" the film version of William C. DeMille's famous play were taken at the Catalina Island off the coast of California. Edith Taliaferro, through natural acting ability brings the picture to a more than ordinary plane.

Clark in "Goose Girl"
Miss Marquette Clark, the only rival of the famous Mary Pickford, will again seek favor with Bijou patrons Sunday in "The Goose Girl," the story of the peasant of royal birth who leads a chain of circumstances, the depicting of which tells an audience of laughter and tears from beginning to end. To know of Miss Clark's accomplishments, is to know that the "Goose Girl" will be one of the biggest attractions of the week.

Mary Pickford herself will be at the Bijou in "Mistress Nell," beginning Easter Sunday and lasting three days.

"Mother's Roses"
Mrs. Mary Maurice, known to the moving picture public as "the most loved woman in pictures" is an attraction well worth seeing at the Casino.

"In the Hands of the Jury," with Anna Q. Nilson, the attraction at the Casino tomorrow contains an abundant of human interest, but withal true. It has to do with the universal guilty conscience and holds the audience in suspense through its entire performance. Details are worked out to perfection, and the jury scene is as realistic as possible.

Mystery Still Unsolved
The fourteenth installment of the "Twenty Million Dollar Mystery," and "The Regenerating Love," featuring Ormi Halsey and Earl Metcalf are the attractions at the Casino on Sunday.

Interest in the mystery story of the adventures of Zudora is increasing. Critics say the installment on Sunday is among the very best of the programs.

"The Regenerating Love," is a play which breathes originality, and is said to contain elements of photoplay ability out of the ordinary.

"The Deep Purple"
The Casino offers a double attraction Monday and Tuesday in Clara Kimball Young in "The Deep Purple," which has been seen in stage productions here. It is again true with this production, that the moving picture producer has been able to accomplish far greater results after years of popularity on the stage than were the stage producers. The scenes are more realistic, taken in natural settings, than are the scenes crowded in three or four short acts before the footlights. Nearly everyone knows the story of "The Deep

Duffy's Helps Him Bear His Age

CHRISTIAN THORSEN

This kindly old gentleman who does not look his 86 years, wrote us over a year ago as follows:

"Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done wonders for me. I became so well that no one would believe it was I. I am better after using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey so I will continue same."

Only recently he wrote us this:

"I was born Oct. 19th, 1829, and now while we are having the world's last war,
I want to thank Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey which has enabled me to bear my age so well."—Christian Thorsen, Norway Lake, Minn.

according to directions. It tones and strengthens the system and promotes good digestion, which is the key to health. It is a recognized family medicine everywhere. Invaluable for overworked men and delicate women. Duffy's is a promoter of health and longevity.

Purple," and the picture will be a hit.

Five years ago the Edison company issued "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight," taken from the popular hymn. It became popular immediately and had a phenomenal run, was then taken off the market, and finally reissued when demand was made upon it. The picture, showing at the Casino Wednesday, has been at local theaters three times previous.

"Thirteen Down"
Here is a picture with an all star cast. Francis X. Bushman, Lester Cunco, Thomas Commerford and Beverly Bayne are all appearing in "Thirteen Down," at the Casino on Thursday, April 1.

In acting for the picture in one of the famous Chicago "loop" district bread lines, Bushman dresses as a tramp; approaches the bread line, hands one of the waiters a dollar to step out, and takes his place. All the time, the camera is working under cover of a dray wagon. Bushman gives the tramp the biggest surprise of his life by wanting to pay one dollar to get a half loaf of bread.

At The Dome
The long-awaited solution of the "Million Dollar Mystery" was shown at the Dome theater Monday. The show concluded one of the most interesting serial pictures ever shown in the city. A crowded house witnessed the performance.
Alice Joyce, the "Kalem Queen" as some of her admirers speak of her, appeared Sunday in "The Virgin." The dainty little actress of the mute drama more than satisfied the hundreds of patrons who flocked to see her.

The third and fourth episodes of the "Perils of Pauline," were shown Tuesday to a crowded house. The pictures have met with much approval at the picture house. The fifth and sixth episodes will be shown on March 30.

The presentation of James Morrison in "Regan's Daughter," was given Wednesday and Thursday. The picture was in two reels. Tonight and tomorrow night a two-reel Lubin production, "His First Case," will be thrown on the screen. The play deals with the experiences of a young lawyer in his first appearance before a court. Charles Sutton, in "The Poisoned Bill," will be at the theater Sunday. The picture is a two-reel Edison production.

AMERICAN SAVES SYRIAN CHRISTIANS

PETROGRAD SENDS MEN TO SCENE

Turks and Kurds Said to Have Killed Many Male Assyrians and Abducted Girls

PETROGRAD, March 26.—Russian troops operating in the Persian province of Azerbaijan have been ordered to march immediately against bands of Turkish regulars and natives reported to have committed unspeakable outrages in northwestern Persia, it was announced here this afternoon.

This order followed the receipt of reports from Tiflis telling of outrages at Urumiah and in neighboring villages. The Turks and Kurds, according to reports from these villages, have executed several hundred Assyrian Christians and have carried scores of girls away as captives.

One report received here today from Tiflis gave Harry P. Packard, attached to the Presbyterian church mission at Urumiah, credit for saving the lives of more than 3,000 Assyrian facing massacre at Geog-tapa. Packard single-handed, faced the advancing Kurds, waving an American flag, according to a telegram from Tiflis. As a result of his parleying, the Kurds drew off. Two hundred Assyrians had been executed before Packard arrived, according to Tiflis dispatches. In another village the Kurds killed every Assyrian male, including babies, and committed outrages against Christian women.

Thousands of Assyrian Christians have taken refuge in the American and French missions, according to dispatches from Tiflis, but their lives are threatened by mobs of raiding Kurds.

CULT LEADER IS HELD FOR DEATH

Head of "New Love" Religion Charged with Complicity in Mysterious Case

ALLIANCE, Ohio, March 26.—Following the death of Miss Amy Tanner, aged 23, here yesterday, P. A. George, high priest, and ten other members of the "New Love" religious cult, were arrested, charged with complicity in the girl's death.

Miss Tanner died at a local hospital after being removed from the headquarters of the cult at midnight.

Physicians who conducted an autopsy this afternoon intimated a criminal operation had been performed on the girl. There were no traces of poison found, it was said.

Five of those arrested are women. George's testimony at the inquest today revealed the unusual tenets of the "New Love" cult.

"What is your idea of marriage?" asked the coroner.

"Those whom God has joined together are man and wife," George answered. "Those whom God has not joined, may act as man or wife to others who are not joined by God."

"They must obey God and suffer the consequences of the law."

"No, we believe in a legal marriage, but not unless God joins the parties."

George said he came to Alliance a year ago this April and established the brotherhood home. He said he had known Amy Tanner five months.

"She was run down spiritually," said George. "She told me she had

BISHOP LEAVES HIS ESTATE TO CHURCH

GREEN BAY, Wis., March 26.—The last will and testament of the late Bishop Joseph J. Fox was filed in probate court today. By the terms of the will the bulk of the bishop's possessions are left to the diocese wherein he had labored for many years as priest and prelate. A sum of $300 was left to each of his surviving relatives—two brothers, three sisters, one niece and one nephew—and the balance of the property and money was willed to the diocese of Green Bay to be used at the discretion of the next bishop, especially for Catholic educational work.

It is estimated that the estate is valued at between $25,000 and $30,000.

DIRT "DISORDERLY" JUDGE'S RULING

CAMDEN, N. J., March 26.—Judge William T. Boyle, of the city court, has given the parents of a family of children two weeks in order to have the youngsters properly cleaned, otherwise the elders will be fined as disorderly persons. In a similar case before the court a mother announced that she had fifteen children and that it was impossible for her to see that they bathe daily or even weekly.

Dr. H. H. Davis, chief medical inspector of the board of education, has started a crusade against Camden parents charged with allowing their children to remain dirty also that they would evade the educational requirements in this respect and thus keep the children at work.

ANGELES LOOMS UP STRONG IN MEXICO

Washington Sees Bid for Mexican Presidency in Address to People of Monterey

WASHINGTON, March 26.—A new factor in the Mexican situation loomed up today. He was General Felipe Angeles, chief of artillery in Villa's army and declared to be the real candidate of the convention forces for first provisional presidency of Mexico should the Villa-Zapata combination finally triumph. Angeles, highly educated, a graduate of the Mexican military academy, made possible many of Villa's earliest victories and was responsible for the first break between Villa and Carranza. He is now in Monterey and advises received here today say his claims to the presidency are being widely promoted.

In order to demonstrate his qualifications there was circulated in diplomatic circles here today copies of his address to the people of Monterey when he recently took that city. Among other things he said:

"We have not come here representing fanaticism of any sort, nor are we here to commit atrocities or outrages; but on the contrary we are here to give assurances of safety; to co-operate with the people to aid them in their work, and to co-operate in the development of the prosperity of the country. Between us there are no Catholics, no Protestants, no Agnostics; all of them from the first to the last will be respected in their beliefs."

"This army, which many call Villistas, is the real army of the nation, and is sustained by the government created by the will of the people. In regard to the Carranzistas, we do not view them as enemies, but as mistaken brothers, victims of deceit on the part of ambitious persons."

It was pointed out today that by this address Angeles paved the way for an understanding with the Carranza forces, should Villa be successful in the impending battles near Matamoros and Tampico.

MILWAUKEE COUNTY BOARD BUYS LAND FOR THE STATE FAIR

MILWAUKEE, March 26.—The state fair situation probably was settled for all time when the Milwaukee county board voted to purchase a strip of land 120 feet wide, along the east side of the fair grounds. It will cost about $40,000, but the amount probably will be taken from the $225,000 state fair appropriation, passed by the last legislature. The board had previously voted several times against purchase of the land.

HUEY STANDS HIGH IN BILLIARD MEET

Chicagoan Regains Lead by Beating Daly 50 to 36 Last Night; Two Tie for Second Place

CHICAGO, March 26.—Bill Huey of Chicago is leading the three cushion billiard players in the championship tourney today, with an excellent chance of being declared king of the three rail sharks when the curtain rings down tonight. The Chicago dark horse has finished his schedule, winning nine and losing two. His nearest competitors are Daly and Moore, the New Yorkers, each with eight won and two lost. Daly and Moore both wind up their schedules today and a win for either or both of them will throw the tournament into a tie. In that case the deciding game or games will be played tomorrow. Moore plays Morin tonight and Daly crosses with De Oro, the present champion.

Huey won his lead back by defeating Daly, 50-36, and Moore climbed into a tie for second place by trimming De Oro 50-35.

RIVAL QUAKERS PLAY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 26.—Pat Moran's gang of Phillies arrived here this morning with hopes of taking the scalps of his brother Quakers of the American league. Two games will be played. Rookies Fish and Fletcher were sent home.

Lesson From the Lily.

How easily we lose poise, swept by the current of life! Our root is not deep enough. Consider the lily resting on the face of the waters, its roots far below. How serene it rides the ripples, and how confidently it has sought the light that its life may expand therein above the turbulence of the waves!—Trinites and Sanctities.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water, and above all take a spoonful of salt occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well. For sale by Chas. E. Schlag, druggist, 503 Main street.

CUBAN SUN WORKS WELL FOR JOHNSON

LN' Artha' Is Forced to Lop Off Work as the Warmth Gets Under

Chicago District Attorney Is Apparently Busy on White Slavery Case

HAVANA, March 26.—Cuba's warm sun is getting to Jack Johnson! The black champion who a week from next Sunday defends his title against Jess Willard, today declared he was going to do less training. He asserted he is losing weight too fast, due to the warm weather.

Johnson cut his boxing down to eight rounds yesterday and today expected to go only six. Willard again went twelve rounds yesterday with his sparring partners and said he expected to do the same today.

Jack Welch of San Francisco has been agreed upon as referee. Johnson last night assented to Welch's officiating after he had turned down a dozen other names.

CHICAGO, March 26.—Jack Johnson's case came into the limelight yesterday when District Attorney Charles C. Hoyne announced Chief Hinton G. Clabaugh of the bureau of investigation had gone to New Orleans. Hoyne may join him there tomorrow, but refused to admit that the New Orleans trip is in connection with Johnson's return to the United States.

Hoyne admitted having read a telegram from the pugilist in regard to returning here to face white slave charges after his fight with Willard.

NATIONALS BREAK CAMP

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Griffith's Nationals, split into two squads, broke training camp today. The Regulars went to Richmond for their first touring game; the Rookies to Alexandria to play a local club.

The Honor of the Boy Scout.
The most important scout virtue is that of honor. Indeed, that is the basis of all scout virtues and is closely allied to that of self-respect. When a scout promises to do a thing on his honor, he is bound to do it. The honor of a scout will not permit of anything but the highest and the best and the manliest. The honor of a scout is a sacred thing, and cannot be lightly set aside or trampled on.—From the Boy Scout Handbook.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostril Opens Air Passages Right Up

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just time. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

FAN HITS JUDGE LANDIS ON HEAD

CHICAGO, March 26.—There's a baseball fan in Danville, Ill., who "has got sense." Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis said so yesterday when he announced receipt of a postal from a Danville bleacherite, in which the judge is told that "any school child could have settled that Fed-O. B. suit in three days."

Judge Landis said he was "warming up to the game" and the decision is expected within a few days.

CHICAGOANS ROLL GOOD IN DOUBLES

PEORIA, Ill., March 26.—A. Stehno and A. Kerleek of Chicago furnished the feature of the American Bowling Congress tournament yesterday, counting 1,195 in the doubles. Kerleek collected 638 pins. That put them in tenth place.

If your mirror be broken, says a Hindu proverb, look into still water; but have a care that you do not fall in.

ROOKIES AND REGULARS

ST. LOUIS.—With the Cardinals in town and keeping in trim and the Browns expected tonight, the fans launched into their last day of antiseason anxiety, pinning their hopes on the weather man. If he's lenient there'll be an interleague game tomorrow. The Browns left Texas last night.

HAVANA.—Willett and Watson pitching for the regulars, dished up mid-season baseball yesterday, routing the Yans 6 to 2. Davenport went the route for the Rookies. Deal, Johnson and Borton, on the Sloop-Feds infield, are bringing the inner defense to big league standard.

MARLIN SPRINGS, Texas.—Pol Peritt breathed a long, deep sigh of relief today. There is no chance of the Cards getting him back. Huggins has accepted Bob Bescher's terms and the Giant outfielder has departed to join the St. Louis club.

DAYTONA, Fla.—The Superbas, having tucked another victory over the Cuban Reds under their belt, eagerly await the coming of the New York Yanks tomorrow. Robbie's men expect to win four straight from Donovan's crew.

SAVANNAH, Ga.—Practice here was limited to an hour's limbering up early today. The Yanks were due to take a train at noon for Daytona, where they meet the Superbas tomorrow.

M'COMBS, Miss.—The Brook-Feds stopped off here just long enough to wallop the home boys, 25 to 1, yesterday. It was a parade around the bases for the Feds.

WHITE AND CROSS BATTLE TO DRAW

Chicagoan and New Yorker Go Ten Rounds for Even Money at Madison Square

NEW YORK, March 26.—New York's fight critics were today hopelessly divided over the result of the slashing, slam-bang ten round fight between Leach Cross, New York dentist, and Charley White, Chicago's pride, at Madison Square Garden last night. One-third gave White a shade, another third handed the verdict to Cross, while the other third said a draw was the only possible verdict.

It was a tearing, ripping battle all the way. When both fighters left the ring they looked as though they had been mauled by threshing machines. White outclassed Cross at cleverness, but the dentist's crouching position baffled the westerner.

FITZSIMMONS GETS

NEW YORK, March 26.—After much effort Bob Fitzsimmons, freckled ex-heavyweight champion of the world, was to be married the fourth time today. Refused a license at Newark, N. J., several days ago, yesterday he applied in Brooklyn for the certificate. He had to produce records of his divorces and by the time he had got them the Brooklyn marriage license office had closed. Fitz expected to be on hand early today. Miss Zelin, of Newark will be the ex-champion's fourth bride.

NOBBY FOOTWEAR COMES THIS YEAR

Short Skirt Makes Wearing of Chic Running Gear Without Doubt a Necessity

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for the United Press.)
Stunning Sara's short skirt shows stockings sheer and sleeky. Also slippers smart of suede. Course they do, they're squeezey.

NEW YORK, March 25.—It boots you naught if you be not well shod. This spring for the shoddily shod will not only need a shine but be one. What are the new short full skirts good for anyway if not to show too-ties smartly slipped and sheerly socked. Never has the running gear been in such bewilderingly brilliant condition as offered in the diverse footwear for 1915. Having been given an inch the shoe designers have taken all foot by storm with their many fascinating creations. The last fashions have become the first consideration of many's spring wardrobe.

Because of the great popularity of the high laced boot this winter the low laced shoe or Oxford tie is being revived with welcoming feet. In its most popular reinvented form it comes with a black patent kid vamp and upper of buckskin in all shades of grey, tan and brown. White uppers of buckskin with the black patent kid vamps are also extremely smart especially with the many all black and white costumes of stripes, polka dots and checks. On all the new spring models the long slender English last in combination with the high Louis XV heel is noticeable.

Pumps Popular
In spite of the Oxford's return the pump still lingers in the good graces and on the graceful feet of the woman of fashion and it also like the Oxford is most popular in the combination of two colors, the black patent kid or bronze vamp and the colored buckskin top. Pumps and Oxfords in entire buckskin of grey, tan, bronze or white are also very good and fine Russian leather shoes both high and low in the delicate shades of champagne, pearl grey and cream are to be much worn in one tone schemes or in combination with the black or darker shaded leathers.

All black patent kid slippers with two or three narrow straps over the instep are offered for wear with light tinted and white silk hosiery and the all bronze slipper with straps is also used successfully with the light tinted stockings.

It is amazing with what tenacity the high shoe clings like ivy to the well rounded limb. It seems loath to give the low shoe a chance. They certainly come high both figuratively and monetarily, the most swaggers of them, for they are made of the finest softest Russian leather in either white or champagne colors, offset with tiny tips or black patent kid and a border of the same up each side of the lacing and around the top. You the bound to take more than one last look at these striking last fashions.

For evening and dance wear the plain satin slipper either strapped or in simple pump form has the stamp of modish approval. It comes in all colors of satin and it is equally smart to match your slipper to your gown or to wear a contrasting shade.

Perhaps the newest and most unique of the evening slippers is a model with its upper of one shade and its vamp of a contrasting lighter tint braided in horizontal stripes with braided the same color as the darker upper. Evening slippers of brocade and metallic tissues are delectably posée but headed ones of bronze still toe the fashion line.

Short shoes of white buckskin with soles equally snowy of white rubber or white rubber are extremely effective this year with trimmings and bandings of colored leather. Us-

RUSSIAN LOSSES AT PERMYSL ARE SET AT 70,000

Slavs Took City by Careful Pushing Forward of Ring of Entrenchments, Say Germans

BERLIN, via The Hague, March 26.—Russian losses in the two sieges of Permysl totalled at least 70,000 according to authoritative information received here today. German military critics pointed to these figures as indicating the desperate character of the Austrian defense.

The Slavs won their victory at the Austrian fortress chiefly through their ability to entrench properly. They constantly moved in their lines tightening the ring about the fortress but never at any time neglecting to build proper defenses, before making their advance.

The Austrian garrison could have held out for many months, except for lack of food and disease. Russian artillery fire left the inner forts of Permysl entirely undamaged and the Russians were careful not to expose themselves to fire from the fort guns. When wireless messages convinced Gen. Kusmanek that there was no prospect of the garrison being relieved, he signalled a surrender.

DUTCH SHIP ATTACKED

LONDON, March 26.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegraph company from Amsterdam says:

"The Dutch steamship Mecklenburg, which left Flushing this morning (Tuesday) for England, was chased and fired upon by a German armed steam trawler. Three shots were fired at the Mecklenburg, but the steamship put on full speed and continued her journey to London."

SIX DOCTORS GO TO CHINA

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 26.—Six American physicians will be sent to the Yale Medical school in China, according to the provisions of an appropriation made by the China Medical board of the Rockefeller Foundation. This announcement was made today by Amos P. Wilder, secretary of the Yale organization at Chansha. The Rockefeller fund provides $10,000 annually for five years.

DACIA GOES TO PRIZE COURT

PARIS, via London, March 26.—A commission of inquiry into the capture by a French cruiser of the American steamship Dacia while on a voyage from the United States to Rotterdam with a cargo of cotton, has declared the seizure to be valid.

The case now goes before the French prize court, which is allowed two months to hand down its decision.

War Office News of Fighting

(BY J. W. T. MASON)

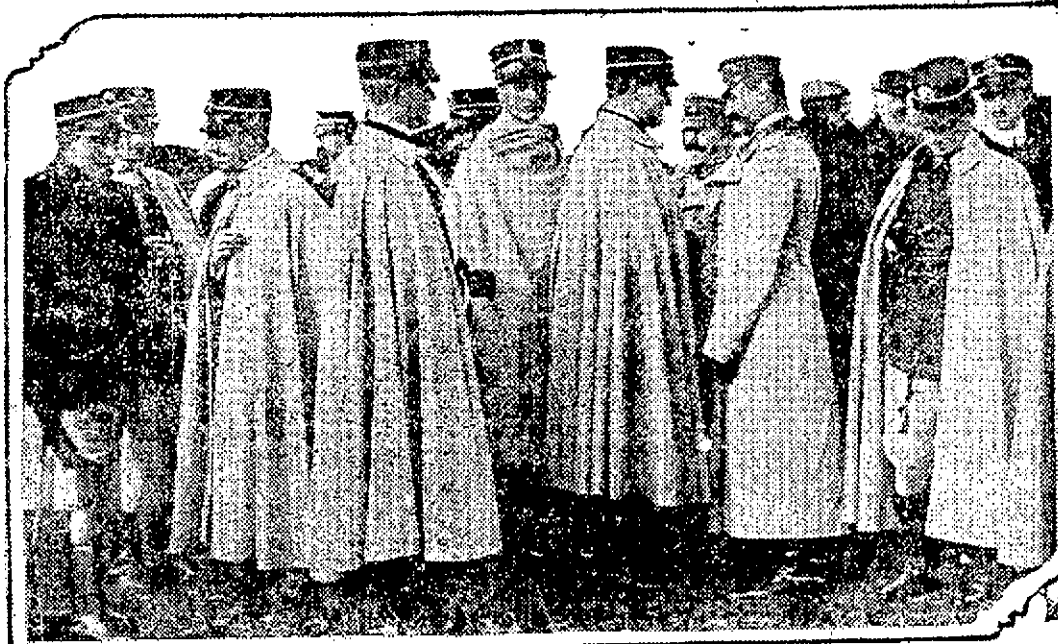

NEW YORK, March 26.—11 A. M.—The battle now being waged for the mastery of the Carpathian mountains is not itself a struggle for Hungary. It is preliminary to that major objective. Its own purpose is to secure domination over the mountain passes leading from Galicia into the Hungarian plain and thus consolidate necessary lines of communication.

When the Austrian government announced the fall of Przemyśl, it was declared that the general staff had taken measures in advance to meet the new conditions created by the capitulation of the San fortress. By means of German assistance, the Austrians have succeeded during the winter in establishing themselves on the Galician side of the Carpathian mountains at every important point except the Dukla Pass.

Although the Dukla Pass is admirably situated for highway traffic, no railroad passes through it. The Russians must have railway communication if they are to advance any distance into Hungary, and they are now fighting to seize passes traversed by railroads.

Why pray to be delivered from temptation and then go around looking for it?

ITALY TAKES FINAL STEPS TO JOIN WAR; PLANS ARE MADE TO ENTER THE DUAL MONARCHY THROUGH SERBIA AND MONTENEGRO

On the Austrian frontier. Group of Italian officers in conference; Italian cavalry at mobilization manoeuvres.

The last steps in Italy's war preparations have been made. The last of the Germans and Austrians in Italy are leaving. Thousands of Italian troops are massed on the Italian frontier. It is not here, however, that Italy plans to strike. When war is declared troops will be poured into Serbia and Montenegro, and the entrance into the dual monarchy will be made across the frontiers of those little countries.

More than twenty work trains are said to be at work on the Hastings and Dakota division on the Great Falls, Mont., branch of the road to be built this summer.

TO THE GOOD CITIZENRY:

It is far from any new achievement of ours when we claim that ninety per cent of the corruption that exists in the American government lies in city governments and is directly charged to police departments. The great English writer, Bryce, whose work was so well received and carried so much prestige, that he was made English ambassador to the United States, gave much space to this subject. We believe that such strong evidence should be given due consideration by every true American citizen.

We are rapidly gaining a national circulation. So far our resources have come largely from other points. The people of La Crosse have been frightened into believing that it was a crime to purchase a copy of our work; however, we are pleased to announce at this time, that this superstitious sentiment has practically vanished.

Our yearly subscription list is growing rapidly. There is not the least bit of danger that "The Crooked Copper" will not be in existence, even after we have passed into the far beyond. We can tell how to verify this statement at this time, but let us assure you that we have reasons. Were we to explain them at this time, it would convince the most doubtful. The fact that we have not met with such speedy results in our actions against corrupt cops should not cast any reflection on us. We have noted very carefully that our most severe critics are people who do not read our publication. In all fairness to the cause, we would suggest that you get a copy, go over it carefully, then if we have gained your confidence, send us your subscription. The special proposition as advertised in both the February and March numbers is worth due consideration.

BOY SCOUTS START PROGRAM OF HIKES ON MONDAY NEXT

Reception for Second Class Scouts with Dinner at North Church Next Friday

The charms of spring have given the walk fever to the Boy Scouts of the North Side.

The first hike of the year is planned for Monday of next week during Easter vacation. The hike will probably be made to the bluffs east of town.

Practice in second class scout work, which is being taken by twenty scouts at present, will be done on the trip. The work consists largely of signalling. The boys will receive much good, first-hand experience on the hills, it is thought.

Dinner is Arranged

Reception of the boys now taking the work as second class scouts will be made at a supper planned for Friday, April 2 at 6:30 at the North Presbyterian church. J. M. Holley, Jr., F. W. Leahy, E. S. Hebbard, H. G. Hayden and Joseph Martin, members of the executive committee of the local organization, will be guests of honor at the supper.

VIADUCT PAVING PLANS ARE READY

Work on the paving of the approaches of the Rose street viaduct will be begun some time in the latter part of April, City Engineer George P. Bradish announced. The delay in the start of work is occasioned by the necessity of allowing the filling of earth and rip-rap to settle firmly.

The paving will be of brick with a concrete base, to the bridge proper, which was paved in the fall with concrete blocks. The street car tracks were built into the steel work of the bridge.

The best way to get along with some people is to get along without them.

GODDARD MAY MOVE HIS CEMENT PLANT TO HAGAR STREET

Old Vote-Berger Site May Be Purchased to Locate Growing Block Factory

The cement block factory of L. M. Goddard and company at St. Cloud and Mill streets may be moved from its present site to a new one, preferably that of the old Vote-Berger plant at Hagar and Summer streets. This was the statement made today by Hiram Goddard of the firm.

The Vote-Berger site, Mr. Goddard says, would be ideal for his plant. A stone building of large dimensions, which has not been included in the razing contract let recently to Albert Quackenbush, would suit admirably the needs of the factory, Mr. Goddard said today.

Several months ago, the North Side Progressive league started a movement to cede the site of the Goddard company to Copeland park, in case a suitable location could be secured for the company. The Goddard site was suggested by the league as the most suitable in the vicinity.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea recipe are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, fragile and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

MAIL CLERK IS TRIED FOR THEFT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 26.—Charged with the theft of $25,000 while in transit in May, 1912, from the Continental and Commercial National bank of Chicago to Pasadena, Cal., Charles L. Oldfield, railway mail clerk, was yesterday arraigned before United States Commissioner Clafflin.

Two years ago a wind storm at Leavenworth uprooted several small buildings and scattered nearly $2,000 of $20 bills in the street. No one claimed them.

With the serial number postoffice inspectors learned that the money had disappeared from the mails between Kansas City and La Junta, Col. Oldfield was one of three clerks in the car that carried the money. Purchase of a $6,000 home resulted in his arrest.

TRANSPORTS WILL HANDLE REFUGEES

WASHINGTON, March 26.—An army transport will take foreign refugees from Tampico if necessary, it was said at the war department. Fighting was said to be already in progress and increasing in the city's vicinity. The Villistas who left Monterey several days ago are now attacking the Carranzistas at Matamoros. Villa himself is reported in command.

A message from General Carranza claims a sweeping victory over Villistas at Elhanna. The state department stated no information had been received regarding Leonard Worcester, reported held for ransom in Mexico.

Keep Up the Fight.

This alone is thy concern, to fight manfully, and never, however manifold thy wounds, to lay down thine arms, or to take to flight.—Lorenzo Scupoli.

He has written a letter to her in care of the French government, begging her to come back and live with him again.

NO LONGER SUFFERS FROM CHRONIC BRONCHITIS

MRS. IDA NIGHTINGALE
"I can not praise Nature's Creation enough for it saved my life. This is from the statement made June 21, 1914, by Mrs. Ida Nightingale, R. R. 13, Chalmers, Ind., who suffered severely from chronic bronchitis until she began taking Nature's Creation."
Continuing, she says: "A year ago I was in a very bad condition. I was so nervous at night that when I went to bed I would lie for an hour and jerk. I would have to get up and walk the floor. It seemed I had no strength and was so constipated that sometimes my bowels would not move for from three to five days. My stomach was bad. I couldn't walk any distance, could not walk or iron, but worked some all the time for I was afraid to give up and go to bed for fear I would never get up."
Every day throughout the country Nature's Creation is bringing blessed relief to sufferers from tuberculosis and the conditions leading to it—such as asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, impure blood and run down system. Persons suffering from any of these ailments really can not afford to be without this remedy, for actual records show that in nearly all cases, Nature's Creation is the one medicine that brings the desired results. Write today for copy of our new booklet, "Truth," containing photos and testimonials of former sufferers. Address Elmer E. Eschenfeldt, 28 Sentinel, Milwaukee, Wis. Nature's Creation is not a patent medicine and is not sold in drug stores. Beware of substitutes—demand the original and genuine Nature's Creation. ## GERMANS USE GRENADES OF SIZE OF BASEBALL IN WESTERN TRENCHES

JACOBS CATCHES BOMB ONE DAY AND RETURNS IT

Men in Legion Make Use of Many German Inventions Including the "Beet Coats"

(Copyright, 1915, by United Press.)

LONDON, March 26.—What Christy Mathewson could do to the Germans near our trenches! The Germans are masters of new tricks, or of adapting old tricks to new purposes, but their hand grenade stunt would put them at the mercy of the great American ball players.

The hand grenade is about the size of a baseball and it weighs only a few ounces more. It has four little buttons on it which must strike with a blow of four or five pounds in order to cause an explosion, so a man can handle one in his hands with perfect safety.

I used to watch the Germans toss these bombs like school girls or like boys pitching nickels at a crack and all us Americans used to watch the inefficiency of the bomb in such untrained hands. We were considered the best bomb throwers of all, because we pitched them with force. A man with the aim of a trained pitcher could have worked havoc with them. He could have kept battering away at a trench and the German line was only forty-five feet away from ours—until he had worn out the trench with repeated explosions.

Man Catches Bomb
Eugene Jacobs, the man who left his butcher shop in Pawtucket to come and fight the Germans because they had destroyed his birthplace in Belgium, saved his life and perhaps several other lives one day by catching one of these bombs, as if it were a baseball, one day. He threw it back, and it exploded in one of the German trenches.

There was a huge Swede in my section who swung the butt end of his rifle at one of these bombs one day and hit it. There was a terrific explosion and he was found brained. Why he did such a foolish thing, I don't know. A man's nerves play him strange tricks in the trenches, and you find yourself tempted to do dangerous things, just as some persons find themselves wanting to jump from high places. I suppose the Swede had been tempted time and again to stop one of the bombs with his rifle and one day the temptation became too strong.

Germans Wear Armor
The Germans had another trick that reminded me of the American game of football. Now and then a few of them would clamber out of the trenches under a terrific fire to cut the barb wire entanglements. They wore armor over their bodies and heads.

They were gruesome looking objects, but they reminded me, however, for all the world, of football players. We never killed any of these armored men, but we usually dropped them by hitting them in the legs. It seemed that their shin guards were not as protective as the rest of their odd suit.

Another new invention, used by the Germans, was a swivel, fixed in the cement, on which the Germans swung their rifles. Each man would fix his aim at a certain very small section of our trenches and, when he was ordered to shoot, he could reach up and pull his trigger without raising his head. It was merely artillery practice, applied to rifles and it had a deadly effect.

White Lights Also
The white night lights which were shot into the air and then hovered over the trenches, suspended from small parachutes were introduced by the Germans but it wasn't long before we had them too.

It was on the artillery line that the French developed the new ideas. The German gun kicks with each discharge. It rears back on its wheels, slews around and must usually be re-aimed. But the wonderful French gun, known as the "soixante quinze," fires twenty-two inch shells a minute. The recoil is caught in cylinders filled with glycerine. The gun loads itself automatically and it never loses its aim. And, on our part of the line, all the new inventions which the Germans developed, could not overcome the great advantage which the French held on account of the "soixante quinze" gun. In its way this gun is as marvelous and revolutionary as the great 42-centimetre guns of the Germans.

Germans Invent "Beet Coat"
The "beet coat," as we called it, was one of the cleverest German inventions that we saw in our part of the line. All of the country around us and the fields in which our trenches were dug was sugar beet farm land and the landscape was a vista of beet leaves.

One day we saw a mound of these leaves heaving in a peculiar fashion. "It's only a mole digging," said our lieutenant.
But suddenly the whole pile moved and hunched forward. We began to shoot and to our amazement, the beet leaves rose on two strong German legs and dashed back to the trenches. We laughed uproariously. The Germans reminded us Ameri-

LEADER OF BOER REVOLT ESCAPES

Lieut. Col. Maritz Breaks Out of Prison and Is Reported Fleeing to Central Africa

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, March 26.—Lieutenant Colonel Maritz, leader of the Boer rebellion of last October, has escaped from his prison camp and fled toward Central Africa, according to information received here today.

Maritz, in command of an army for the invasion of German Southwest Africa, in October maintained and led part of his command over to the Germans, being joined by Generals De Wet and Beyers.

Maritz and De Wet were captured; Beyers is reported to have been drowned. The Capetown assembly yesterday voted that the death penalty should not be imposed upon Maritz and other rebels.

cans of Montgomery or Stone in their queer disguises.

We found out later that the Germans would take a gunnysack, cut head and armholes in it, pin beet leaves to the sack and then wear the sack like a coat. If a man moved carefully along on his stomach, the chances of his being seen were very small.

Men Steal Invention

I was detailed with two other men to burn a straw stack in which the Germans had hidden machine guns. We spent the day in making "beet coats" and at 9 o'clock in the evening we donned them and started out on our hundred yard crawl through the beet fields. We got to the stack, fixed the fuse, lit the fuse with a match held under a coat, crawled back to the trench and five minutes later the stack was ablaze.

The stack had been hollowed out and the Germans had placed four machine guns in it. We saw the wrecks of these guns the next day and later my two comrades and myself were "mentioned in dispatches" for firing the stack. Without our "beet coats" invented by the Germans, we would not have succeeded, for several times the white lights filled the air while we stretched ourselves on our stomachs among the beets. "Beating it with beets" was the name we gave to this stunt of wearing "beet coats."

WHITE SLAVER PARDONED

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Touched by word that George Savage, a prisoner in the Minnesota penitentiary, was dying, President Wilson has signed a pardon, and orders were telegraphed to the warden to release the man. Savage was serving a sentence of five years, imposed in St. Paul for violation of the Mann "white slave" law.

The Real Thing.

An aim in life is the only fortune worth the finding, says Stevenson; and it is not to be found in foreign lands, but in the heart itself.

SHE COULDN'T BE BETTER DRESSED

TO UPLIFT MAIDS IS AIM OF SOLONS

Back Stairs Courtships and Grog Shop Meetings Not Conducive to Morals Says Minkley

MADISON, Wis., March 26.—(Special.)—Backstairs courtship and its shortcomings were described by Assemblyman Carl Minkley at the hearing of his bill for the "uplift" of the servant girl before house committee on labor Thursday afternoon.

"The American domestic is up against it in the matter of courtship," said Mr. Minkley. "Like every other young woman she has longings toward a home of her own and like every other young woman it is up to her to corral a young man. But how can she do this? She has no place in the home of her employer to entertain her beau. So she meets him in dance halls on street corners and in palm gardens.

"In many cities and towns the well known 'family entrance' is the only place that a couple so situated can go. If the man is sincere, this sort of a courtship leads to marriage. If he is not, it often leads to a few drinks, a wrong step and the ultimate undoing of the girl. My bill makes a place for the girl to entertain her 'company' in the home of her employer."

The bill was supported by a large number of women workers and employers who bore out the contention of Mr. Minkley.

MAMMA, DADDY AND CHILDREN ALL LOVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

Harmless "fruit laxative" cleanses stomach, liver and bowels

A delicious cure for constipation, biliousness, sick headache, sour stomach, indigestion, coated tongue, salivaceous—take "California Syrup of Figs." For the cause of all this distress lies in a torpid liver and sluggish bowels. A tablespoonful tonight means all constipation, poison, waste matter, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved out of your system by morning without griping. Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself or your children, because this delicious fruit laxative can not cause injury. Even a delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel regulator and tonic ever devised. Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine; so ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs." Say to your druggist, "I want only that made by the 'California Fig Syrup Company.'" This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.

All structures of more than two stories in height must be equipped with adequate fire escape facilities. Fire chiefs, fire marshals, city officials, and the state commissioner of labor are charged with the enforcement of the law. School buildings, lodging houses, theaters, public halls, manufacturing and mercantile establishments are affected.

VAST NUMBER OF BELGIANS HELPED

One Million Four Hundred Thousand People Cared for by Relief Commission

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 12.—(By Mail to New York.)—One million four thousand people, who are absolutely destitute of any other resource, are now being cared for daily in Belgium by the Belgian-American relief commission.

This organization has been fully perfected in all parts of the country. More than 50,000 volunteers are now enrolled in the work of distributing relief and bureaus have been established in all of the principal cities and towns.

One of the first tasks of the central bureau has been the securing of accurate figures of the manner in which the Belgian population has been dispersed by the war. On the first of last August the little kingdom had a population of 7,700,000. Of those who fled before the German advance and occupation 110,000 found refuge in England, 350,000 in Holland and 50,000 in France. Still others scattered in different countries bring the total number that fled and that is still residing out of the homeland up to 700,000.

The province of Liege is the one in which destitution is greater than any other. It suffered the severest of all the Belgian provinces. A total of 300,000 are being cared for there by the relief commission. In the province of Hainaut there are 150,000 helpless.

In this province of the rations allowed by the German administration to the population is limited to 125 grammes of bread a day. The rations of the German soldier is 750 grammes. At Antwerp as a special favor an increase has been made to 250 grammes a day for the population.

TEXAS CHILDREN LEARN HOG RAISING

DALLAS, Texas, March 26.—Texas will do its share to save the country from a meat famine. Of 20,000 men, boys and girls who have entered the contests of the Texas Industrial congress for farm products, 1,300 are in the hog club. As many more are listed in the various other branches of the livestock industry, but hogs are considered the likeliest money producers.

A circular to the hog club contestants, telling how to get the best results, says:

"Choose a young pig. One recently weaned, whose mother has received the right care, and which is not a runt, should be chosen.

"If a hog is kept in a dry lot and fed corn only, he will lose the feeder money every time. If a hog is given all the skim milk he can drink, with an ear of corn each day, half an ear when he is small, he will grow fat and make the feeder money."

"The hog should be given a chance to keep himself clean. A scratching place with a sunny sack dipped in kerosene nipped on it will serve to rid him of dirt and most of the vermin frequently. But be sure to get a good pig. Don't use a mongrel or a cross breed."

What Gives Milk Its Color.

WOMEN WHO ARE ALWAYS TIRED

May Find Help in This Letter.

Swan Creek, Mich.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When through neglect or overwork I get run down and my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a great blessing to women, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, R.F.D., No. 1, Swan Creek, Michigan.

Another Sufferer Relieved.

Hebron, Me.—"Before taking your remedies I was all run down, discouraged and had female weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and find today that I am an entirely new woman, ready and willing to do my household work now, where before taking your medicine it was a dread. I try to impress upon the minds of all ailing women I meet the benefits they can derive from your medicines."—Mrs. CHARLES ROWE, Kennebago, Maine.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

GOVERNMENT PICKS SITE FOR TERMINAL

Tidewater Terminal of the Alaska Railroad Expected to Be Located at Seward

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The Tidewater terminal of the government's Alaska railroad will be at Seward, present terminal of the Alaskan Northern railroad. This became known here yesterday. The purchase of this terminal probably will be one of the first steps in the big project.

Intimation concerning the route has been withheld absolutely by President Wilson and formal announcement will not be made until he is ready to make it. Every person connected with the undertaking has maintained silence on the question of the route, aside from admitting the consideration of three possible ones.

The Seward Siskiyou valley route lies nearer the Matanuska coal fields desired for the navy's use, than either of the other suggested lines. The Alaskan Northern railroad, about seventy miles long, extending from Seward to Knik, is owned by Canadian bankers.

Benjamin R. Tillman, Jr., and Joseph P. Cotton, counsel to the Alaska engineering commission, have been working on the contract for the road's purchase.

It is believed the railroad will be built directly by the government, as

GIRL HELD FOR FRAUD

NEW YORK, March 26.—Miss Rae Tanzer, plaintiff in a $50,000 breach of promise action against James W. Osborne, wealthy attorney, was today bound over to the grand jury on a charge of using the mails to defraud by United States Commissioner Houghton. The verdict clinched a morning of sensational evidence on each side of the case. Commissioner Houghton severely arraigned the pretty defendant when he handed down his decision.

MEGANTIC LOOKED FOR WITH SURVIVORS

NEW YORK, March 26.—The White Star liner Megantic, carrying the captain and fifteen other survivors of the Mallory liner Denver which sank in mid-ocean Tuesday afternoon, was due to reach her pier this afternoon according to a wireless message to the White Star office yesterday. The freighter Manhattan, carrying fifty-six other survivors of the Denver, will dock on Sunday.
